CHARGE HAYWOOD WAS LEADER IN PLOT TO SLAY

State's Case Against Labor Leader Accused of Causing Death of Former Governor Steunenberg Is Presented to the Jury by Prosecuting Attorney—Chain of Crime Alleged.

BOISE, Idaho, June 4.—The trial of William D. Haywood, secretary and treasurer of the Western Federation of Miners, charged with the murder of Frank Steunenberg, former Governor of the State, began to-day with the presentation of the State's case to the jury.

The prosecution's case was outlined by James H. Hawley, leading counsel for the State. Haywood is charged with murder of the former Governor in the indictment. Under the Idaho law this charge is preferred against conspirators in such a crime. It is charged that he conspired with Orchard, who confessed the crime and it yet to be reckoned with for it.

GIGANTIC PLOT CLAIMED.

The State will attempt to prove that the big labor organization was being used to form a gigantic plot to revolutionize society by murder and terrorism. The prosecution charges that fully twenty-six murders can be traced to this organization.

The alleged plots were laid bare by the confession of Orchard that it was he who killed Governor Steuneng with a bomb. Orchard told the authorities that he was only a tool in the hands of the officials of the labor organization, and that the chief conspirator was Haywood.

No immunity, it is claimed, was given Orchard for telling his story, and he has declared that he expects to be put to death for his act.

FIRST WITNESS CALLED.

After the opening address by the prosecution the testimony at once began. The first witness was one who saw the explosion of the bomb that killed Steunenberg at Caldwell on the night of December 30, 1905. This will lead up to the connection of Harry Orchard with the case, and the testimony of Orchard, which it is expected may be reached some time this week, will bring out the entire extent of the alleged plots. The death of the murder itself Orchard alone can supply.

It is not yet known whether Orchard will be kept in the penitentiary throughout the trial or brought into Boise to the county jail, where Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone are now confined. Much secrecy is made as to the arrangements, because of the rumor that enemies of Orchard have plotted to kill him before he takes the stand.

CHARGE MANY PLOTS.

By way of strengthening the accusation of conspiracy in the Steunenberg case an effort will be made to identify Haywood and the others with the dynamite outrage at Independence, Colorado, with the shooting of Collins, superintendent of the Smuggler mine at Telluride, with attempts to kill two judges of the Supreme Court of Colorado, and with other crimes of violence, with all of which the confession of Harry Orchard is said to have connected the Federation leaders, and of which the prosecution says it has sufficient corroboration.

An interesting feature about the make-up of the jury is the fact that every member is or has been a farmer, and that none of them are identified with or have any practical knowledge of the mining business. Not one is a native of Idaho, and not one is a native of a far Western State. Only one of the jurors, A. H. Barnes, has ever had any inside knowledge

500 GIRLS ON STRIKE; CIGAR SHOPS CLOSED

YOUNG WOMEN'S DETERMINATION TO GET RAISE TREATENS TO INVOLVE 5,000.

In the Wells Memorial building on Washington street an all-day meeting is being held by the 500 or more girls employed as cigar strippers who have come out on strike because their employers refused to grant their demands for a raise in pay.

In little groups the girls began to reach the hall shortly before 10 o'clock. The books of the organization were opened and a roll call was started to see just how many persons were out. Of the seventy firms in the city twenty-seven have refused to grant the demands of the girls, and at a meeting held last evening they agreed to strike.

1,500 Workmen Affected.

All of these girls remained away from their places of employment to-day. As a result the cigarmaking business of the city has been seriously interfered with.

The three Traiser factories, the Waite & Bond factory, that of the M. C. A. Company and other places of business closed to-day.

At the headquarters of the International Cigarmakers' Union to-day, a representative of the BOSTON AMERICAN was told that the strike had already affected 1,500 cigarmakers, and that unless the matter is adjusted to-day 5,000 union cigarmakers, who will no handle anything but union stripped goods, will be walking the streets.

43 Firms Sign Scale.

While the doors of the M. C. A. factory at 235 Friend street were closed when a BOSTON AMERICAN reporter called there, the owner of the establishment, Mrs. T. N. Lemery, insisted that the filler strippers were at work and that there was no strike in that concern.

The women officials of the Filler Strippers' Union, including Miss Annie Bowen, the financial secretary, who is employed at the M. C. A. factory, Mrs. Bessie Jacobs and Mrs. Scully, declined to-day to discuss their difficulties with the manufacturers.

The filler strippers have been receiving three and a half cents a pound and demand four and a half. Some of the manufacturers say that they will give four cents a pound and no more. Forty-three of the seventy firms have signed the scale demanded.

The wrapper and binder strippers were given increases two or three weeks ago, and the meetings last night and to-day were the result of the belief of the girl filler strippers that they are entitled to as much pay as the others.

Shortly before noon it was announced at the headquarters of the strikers that J. Driscoll, a cigar manufacturer, had day signed the union agreement, advancing his wages to the girls from 3½ cents a pound to 4½ cents a pound, as they demand.

Under the new scale the girls can make from $16 to $17 a week.

MACHINISTS' STRIKE RANKS INCREASING

CLEVELAND, O., June 4.—More machinists joined the strikers to-day. They came from several shops not affected by the strike yesterday, and from the other shops where only a part quit at the first call. Union men are picketing all the shops where strikes have been declared.

JUDGE HARGIS WILL ENTER JOURNALISM

PRESIDENT TOO FAST, ASSERTS FRENCH LEADER

PARIS, June 4.—Further criticism of President Roosevelt in his anti-railroad campaign at the hands of European economists and financiers was offered to-day by Paul Leroy-Beaulieu, France's most distinguished authority on economic affairs. He indorses the opinion recently expressed by Lord Rothschild that the President "goes too fast." He said to-day:

"I believe there is some truth in Lord Rothschild's statement that President Roosevelt's anti-trust policy has helped to lower the values of gilt-edged securities.

"As a partial explanation of the decline of valuable securities M. Leroy-Beaulieu said:

"In France and the rest of Europe, indeed throughout the world, but most notably in, America, the development of vast and varied industrial enterprises has been too fast for available capital."

CHARGE ACID USED IN RIOT

W. H. Tobin Held in $1,000 Bonds as Result of South Boston Clash.

NO UNION TEAMSTERS IN IT

Charged with having participated in the riot during which non-union teamsters were mobbed by 2,000 men and boys in South Boston last night and with having thrown acid on a horse, William H. Tobin was arraigned in the South Boston District Court today. He pleaded not guilty and was held in $1,000 bonds for trial on Thursday morning.

He is charged with an assault on James Riley and Henry E. Dewey, two drivers for the R. S. Brine Transportation Company, who were injured by stones thrown by the rioters.

Tobin is not a union man, and so far as the police have been able to discover are members of the Teamsters' Union took part in the rioting.

Tobin is employed by Thomas A. Elson, whose business is that of hoarding down buildings, at 37 West Fifth street, South Boston.

During last night's riot several policemen who tried to protect Riley and Dewey were roughly handled.

Bricks and stones were hurled during the riot, which was the worst that the police have had to contend with since the beginning of the teamsters' strike.

Several non-union men were badly injured, and acid was thrown on one of the horses.

Attack the Police.

Angered at the presence of the police, who were using their clubs right and left in making their way through the crowd, the leaders of the rioting attacked the lieutenants and battered in their helmets. Extra policemen were sent for before the rioting was stopped.

Many in the crowd were hurt who did not report their injuries. Several went to the homes of physicians nearby to have their wounds dressed.

Both the police and the officials of the Teamsters' Union declare that none of the striking teamsters were involved in the riot. None of the men engaged in the disturbance wore union buttons. It was a mob of mostly young men, between sixteen and twenty years of age, and it is declared today that the cause of the non-union men egged the crowd on until both sides were raised up indiscriminately.

James Riley, twenty-two, and Henry L. Dewey, twenty-eight, were injured and had to be taken to the office of a physician. Dewey had a bad cut on the chin. Riley was struck on the back of the head several times and has a bad scalp wound.

Riot Became Battle.

The revival of the riotous scenes that kept the police busy several weeks ago when strike-breakers insulted men and women while on their way home to South Boston at night, came as a surprise to the police, and it was some time before the reserves reached Broadway last night, and when they got there they found the task confronting them a hard one.

The disturbance started when a big two-horse truck belonging to the Brine firm and driven by Henry R. Deming came along Broadway, near Dorchester avenue. Several young men shouted at the driver. Several non-union teamsters, it is said, jeered at the men on the sidewalk, and soon a crowd gathered that rapidly reached large proportions. Police were detailed to do escort duty for the teams, but the teams back and forth made the crowd angry, and soon sticks and stones began to fly.

Extra police were summoned, but could not handle the crowd. The drivers of the non-union trucks ripped down the wrong street, and were soon surrounded. Policemen were attacked and their helmets broken. Stones struck drivers and those in the crowd as the battle waged warmer.

A second attack was made when a crowd became incensed at a Brine driver near the corner of D and West Second streets. Someone threw acid on the horses, and an arrest was made.

Strike-Breakers Strike.

A strike of strike-breakers, followed by a small riot, stirred things up in East Cambridge yesterday, quiet being restored only after Joseph Bucci of No. 52 Myrtle avenue, Somerville, a strike-breaker, had been removed to the Relief Hospital with a badly cut head and the R. S. Brine Company had satisfactorily compromised with their striking drivers.

When eleven strike-breakers on the job of hard stable reported for duty, they were informed that their pay would have to be reduced to the sum paid before the strike, or a cut of one dollar. Nine of the eleven immediately refused to go to work and an indignation meeting was held in the rain. Early in the afternoon they came up to an agreement with the employers and had just started out with their teams when they were assailed with showers of stones thrown by boys. One of the stones struck Bevin just over the temple and caused a wound which necessitated treatment at the Relief Hospital.

Strikers' Benefit Concert.

Over $2,000 was added to the fund for the striking teamsters by the big testimonial benefit under the auspices of the Central Labor Union in Cyclorama Theatre last night. The house was sold out twice over, and big prices were paid for many of the seats and boxes.

The bill was made up of performers from different theatres in the city, who volunteered their services. Big hits were made by Lottie Mills and Nellie Nichols. Toward the close of the entertainment President Arthur M. Huddell of the Central Labor Union, thanked all who contributed to the success of the affair.

MASTER TEAMSTERS' INJUNCTION HEARING AGAIN POSTPONED

The hearing on the petition of the Master Teamsters' Association to make the temporary injunction against Team Drivers' Union, No. 25, permanent, which was to have been resumed before Master James D. Colt in the Superior Court today, was indefinitely postponed by agreement of counsel, owing to the pressure of other cases.

FIRE, SMOKE, BUT MR. FEENEY BREAKFASTS ON

Fire and smoke fail to disturb the breakfast of Chairman John F. Feeney of the Democratic State Committee.

Mr. Feeney strolled into Marston's restaurant at No. 25 Brattle street to-day, selected a remote table at the rear and ordered toast and coffee.

At this psychological moment some grease became spilled on a ventilator shaft in the kitchen right below. As the order for toast and coffee came up, smoke began to come up also. Someone pulled in an automatic alarm. As firemen dashed through and looked for the fire Mr. Feeney calmly sat there drinking coffee and eating toast. The firemen found only smoke, and burning grease giving out more of it, smudge than anything else.

As the firemen were going out Police Captain Gaskill of Court square station came in.

"I always knew you were brave, John," says the Captain, "now I perceive you are fire eater."

"Have some breakfast, Cap.," says Feeney.

But the Captain had breakfasted.

MRS. GOULD'S LETTERS STILL INTERCEPTED

Postal Authorities Unable to Reveal How Former Actress' Mail Is Obtained.

HOW GOULD MADE GIFTS

By Boston American Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The assertion was made today that the policies of Mrs. Howard Gould's mail, instead of being stopped by its exposure, is being continued even to the present time, and that Mrs. Gould is no longer willing to trust her letters to any hotel mail box.

The impression had been that Mrs. Gould's complaints concerning the United States mail were based on old incidents, which it might not be possible to trace, had a woman friend of hers was asked yesterday to give some of the dates on which the mail was tampered with.

"Why, right down almost to to-day," was the reply. "If Mrs. Gould had any of importance that she wanted to communicate with anyone this evening she would not think of writing it in a letter any more than she would think of calling from the top of the St. Regis Hotel through a megaphone.

"There is one thing Mr. Gould did which I happen to know about, that is very much like his present giving. Mrs. Gould had two very handsome carriages that her husband kept in storage with the Demarest firm, I believe. At the time of the Actors' Fair Fund, it may be recalled, Mr. Gould purchased two carriages at the fair. The fact is he had managed in some way to get the carriages that the actresses drove in, although Mrs. Gould had purchased them and had paid for them out of her own allowance.

"These carriages were auctioned off and I believe one of them was bid in by a well-known theatrical manager. Mrs. Gould, of course, can never hope to get the carriages back, and although Mr. Gould's generosity probably made a lot of professional people think well of him, he has put them in the list of things on which Mrs. Gould was "squandering" money.

BARRON EXPLAINS SHOE MACHINE TRUST 'BLUFF'

Monopoly, Pending Legal Opinion, Aims to Keep Within New Law, Says News Bureau.

While shoe men of the State believe that the order of the United Shoe Machinery Company in their own way to accept orders for machines in this State is a bluff, the company today gave out its reason for issuing the order.

The information reached the public through C. W. Barron's Boston News Bureau. This is the official organ of the Shoe Machinery Trust. It was Barron who gave William H. McMasters $200 with which, it was asserted, he trapped Representative S. John Lamoureux in connection with the shoe machinery bill.

Await Legal Opinion.

The order of President Winslow, the Boston News Bureau says, "constitutes a precautionary measure to prevent the company from violating in any particular the terms of the anti-shoe machinery bill until a legal opinion has been given as to the method it must pursue in securing new business."

This legal opinion will be forthcoming in a few days, it is said.

Hay State shoe men have no idea that the Shoe Machinery Company contemplates the abandonment of the rich field which it has cultivated alone for so many years in Massachusetts. Those manufacturers declare that the order directing agents to refuse machines in Massachusetts is but a grand stand play on the part of the defeated Trust in an effort to frighten the manufacturers which now have its machines.

R. H. Long, the wealthy shoe manufacturer of South Framingham and father of the bill passed by the Legislature against the United Shoe Machinery people, declares he does not believe that the Trust will carry out its threat, since there are too many small manufacturers still friendly to the United people, and who are still dependent on the Trust.

Former Attorney-General Herbert Parker, counsel for the manufacturers of the bill aimed at the Trust, says there is no law to prevent the United Shoe Machinery Company from refusing to lease or accept orders for its machinery to the manufacturers. He stated to a BOSTON AMERICAN reporter that he might have something to say on the stand of the United Shoe people in the near future.

Two-Thirds Machinery Anti-Trust.

"Two-thirds of the shoe machinery now installed in the shoe shops of Massachusetts are from other machinery people than the Trust," said R. H. Long to a reporter for the AMERICAN. "The refusal of the United Shoe Machinery Company to do further business with the shoe manufacturers does not need to alarm any one, for there are plenty of avenues left from whence machinery can be obtained.

"The new law passed by the Legislature regulating the free use of machinery and making it unlawful for the United people to bind the manufacturers by contract, goes into effect July 1. There is still time in which the United people may take a new stand. I don't expect to see their order directing agents to cease doing business in this State lived up to. I don't feel best able to give any reason for the issuance of the order. It wouldn't be real good policy for me to say much about that at this time in view of our recent victory."

According to reliable information furnished the AMERICAN, F. Rossell Condon, former agent of the United Shoe Machinery Company, is now in the employ of Senator Charles H. Prouty of Spencer, one of the opponents of the Shoe Machinery Bill, just passed by the Legislature.

Senator Prouty was one of the workers against the bill all during its prominence on Beacon Hill. He controls a large shoe factory at Spencer, partly equipped with the machines leased to him by the United Shoe people. Mr. Condon was formerly agent for the United people at Spencer, but it is understood that he is now solely in the employ of Senator Prouty.

No Law to Coerce Trust.

Former Attorney-General Herbert Parker said to an AMERICAN reporter:

"There is no law in Massachusetts which can be applied to the United Shoe Machinery Company to compel it to continue to lease its machines to those shoe manufacturers in this State provided the company does not wish to do business longer. The company has the acquiescent right to determine its future business in this State in relation to the shoe manufacturers.

"As to the cause of the order which the United people have issued to their agents, I hardly feel it is within my province to offer any explanation or even to discuss it. Furthermore, as counsel for the opposition to the United Shoe Machinery Company in the Legislature, I do not feel it would become me to say much at this time. I may have something to say on the subject later, however, which will be of interest. It is not for me to criticise the company at this time for its orders."

"MORE RAIN" WEATHER MAN PRESCRIBES

Fair Sky and Warming Sun's Rays Only Temporary Respite, Says Forecaster.

"SHOWERS LATE TONIGHT"

Pleasant weather and sunshine at last! Today Boston went into society under a fairly clear sky, with the air gently warmed by a promising sun. It seemed too good to be true. But there will be rain to-night, the weather man says. The forecast for the day is:

"Showers late to-night. Wednesday, showers. Light southeast to south winds, becoming southwest Wednesday."

For a time so long that it is discouraging to recall, Boston has struggled along under cloudy skies, rain and raw, cold air.

The "funny" writers have asked pathetically what is so "rare" as a day in June, and the suffering public has extracted what comfort it could from that paraphrase.

The merchants, who have been hit very hard by this weather upset, are cheering up a bit to-day. The straw hat is getting a new lease of life. The summer resort pictures are thinking there may be some hope on this earth, after all. The entire population is visibly more cheerful now.

One explanation offered for the continued cold is the Kingston earthquake, which is said to have thrown the Gulf stream out of its North Atlantic course. This only remedy, according to this same authority, is another earthquake to switch the Gulf stream back to the old stand.

"Haywood Genius Behind Great Plot," Cries Prosecutor

of labor unionism, and his experience was limited to membership in a printers' union.

With the single exception of Daniel Clark, who is thirty-one years old, every member of the jury is past fifty and one is seventy-one years old.

Jury Made Up of Farmers.

The jury is made up of the following men:

THOMAS B. GESS, real estate.
FINLEY M'BEAN, farmer.
SAMUEL D. GILMAN, farmer.
DANIEL CLARK, farmer.
GEORGE POWELL, rancher.
O. V. SEBORN, farmer.
H. F. MESSICAR, farmer.
LEE SCRIVENER, farmer.
J. A. ROBERTSON, farmer.
LEVI SMITH, carpenter.
A. P. BURNS, retired rancher.
SAMUEL F. RUSSELL, farmer.

All the legal driftwood has been cleared away, the indictment has been read to the prisoner and the first witness in the case takes the stand to-day. Special Prosecutor Hawley, in his opening statement, will outline the methods by which he hopes to prove that the chief officials of the Western Federation of Miners are bloodthirsty anarchists who resorted to murder by means of dynamite to remove the opponents of the Miners' Union.

The prisoner is charged directly with one of the black-est murders ever committed in the United States.

Under the Idaho statutes the prisoner is charged in the indictment with actually firing the bomb that blew Steunenberg into eternity. That he was not present in the State is admitted by everyone, but he was constructively present under the laws.

Bomb Exploded When Gate Opened.

He constructively placed the cork loosely in the bottle of sulphuric acid, attached a string to it by means of a bent pin and fastened the string to the gate through which his intended victim had to pass to gain entrance to his house.

As the gate opened the cork was withdrawn from the bottle and the contents spilled on some giant powder caps, which exploded a bomb containing ten pounds of dynamite.

The prosecution will allege that the explosion at the Vindicator mine, the blowing up of the Independence depot, the murder of Light Gregory, a detective of Denver, the murder of Arthur Collins of Telluride, the alleged blowing up of Fred Bradley of San Francisco and the alleged attempts on the lives of former Governor Peabody and Judges Gabbert and Goddard of Colorado were all acts in a single great conspiracy to which the murder of Governor Steunenberg was incidental.

It will be charged that Haywood was the genius and the strength behind the great plot, and that Steunenberg was added to the list because of his part during the labor troubles in North Idaho.

It will be alleged that Haywood and his associates, standing and working in the background planned the long list of crimes and sent Harry Orchard and Steve Adams forth as hired executioners.

Orchard to Testify.

To-day the first witness in the noted trial was C. F. Wayne, a laborer in Caldwell, who was occasionally employed to do odd jobs around the Steunenberg residence.

Wayne passed through the gate ten minutes before the fatal bomb exploded, which proves, according to the prosecution, that the alleged assassin, Orchard, was familiar with the habits of his victim, and must have placed the bomb but a few minutes before the explosion took place.

John Rice, N. P. Ellis and A. Hallmarpe will testify that they saw Orchard hanging around the premises previous to the explosion. Unless the plans of the prosecution are very much changed in court it is likely that Orchard will be on the stand Thursday.

Attorneys Borah and Hawley say of the jury: "It represents the best class of citizenship in the county and will do exact justice at this trial. We are satisfied with them, and will have no complaint even if the verdict is against us."

What Darrow and Richardson for the defence think of the jury is told in this signed statement:

No Union Man on Jury.

"The Haywood jury is made up of eight Republicans, three Democrats and one Prohibitionist. It consists of nine farmers, one real estate agent, one building contractor and one foreman of fence construction on a railroad. There is not a man on the jury who works for wages or who has ever belonged to a labor organization—except Barnes, who was a member of a union fourteen years ago—or who has ever been a student of trades unionism or the labor question. In the two hundred odd persons drawn, not more than three trades unionists were placed in the panel, and these were excused for conscientious objections to capital punishment and fixed opinions.

"The jurors drawn have been mainly farmers, interspersed with a large number of bankers and some business men. The jurors appear to be men of honest purposes, determined to give the defendant a fair trial, but it is uniformly made up of a class to which none of the defendants had ever belonged and who have no natural kinship to labor organizations.

Ninth Defence Lawyer.

"In addition to this they are drawn from a small county almost wholly agricultural and each member for a year and a half has read little about the case except what has been contained in the Boise daily papers, and this has been uniformly been hostile to the defendants. Nearly all of them admitted that they had formed opinions and impressions from which they could not immediately throw must have been against the defendant."

Just prior to the reading of the indictment, the name of Peter Breen of Butte, Mont., was entered as an additional member of counsel for the defence. Breen is the ninth lawyer now engaged in the defence. He is strongly identified with the Coeur d' Alene troubles, and is said to have rendered valuable advice on points which lead back to the riots and disorder in Northern Idaho.

MYSTERY TELEGRAM HALTS GIRL'S WEDDING

"DOCTOR'S" MESSAGE SAYS GROOM IS ILL; MALDEN CEREMONY POSTPONED.

Because of a mysterious telegram, signed "Doctor," announcing the illness of the groom-to-be, Clifford A. Sampson of Brooklyn, the five hundred invitations sent out for the marriage of Miss Ethel May Towns, to have occurred to-night in the little historic Maplewood church, have been recalled, the wedding indefinitely postponed and Malden society, which was looking forward with interest to the uniting of these two young people has been given cause for speculation. Meanwhile Miss Towns, with an intimate woman friend, Mrs. Allan Corliss of Malden, has gone to Brooklyn to clear up the mystery of her intended husband's sudden ladispolition.

Miss Towns, a young and beautiful member of Malden's social set, is a former teacher in the Oxford school and a daughter of Rev. F. H. Towns, at one time a Malden alderman.

She first met Mr. Sampson in New York a few years ago and since that time he has been a frequent visitor at the Towns home in Malden, sometimes spending a week or a fortnight at a time. The engagement was announced in February and immediately preparations were begun for the wedding, which was set for to-day.

Everything had been put in readiness, more than 500 invitations issued and preparations made to hold the ceremony. Yesterday Miss Towns arose full of the thoughts of her wedding to-day and only waiting to hear that her future husband was hurrying to her side, when the telegram which changed her gladness to sorrow arrived.

Miss Towns is about twenty years of age. The young man is about twenty-five years of age and little is known of him other than the fact that he claimed to be prominently identified in New York and to be connected with the Brooklyn Young Men's Christian Association. On his visits to Malden he had created a favorable impression with the young woman's parents and all of her friends.

The telegram received by Miss Towns failed to state where the young man is, and the bride-to-be had no previous knowledge of his illness.

A mysterious feature of the affair is the fact that although the young man is said to have told the family that he was a physical instructor at the Brooklyn Young Men's Christian Association, officials of that institution last night declared that no such person was known to them, or had ever been connected with their associations as an instructor.

The parents of the young woman, however, have absolute faith in the young man and believe, as does the daughter, that something is wrong and that Sampson will be perfectly able to explain everything as soon as he is able to come to Malden.

ORDER HEARING ON PEST HOUSE

Alderman Woods of Brighton proposes a radical measure in order to prevent the establishment of a hospital for contagious diseases in the fashionable Corey Hill section. In the Board of Aldermen yesterday he offered this order:

Ordered, that in the portion of the city of Boston formerly the town of Brighton the use of any building for a hospital for contagious or infectious diseases is hereby prohibited.

Alderman Woods declared that under the Revised Laws the Board of Aldermen have the power contained in the foregoing order, and that no other way of preventing the establishment of such a hospital is possible.

He asked for a suspension of rules that the order might be passed yesterday. His order was referred to the committee on health, and a public hearing will be held.

POLITICIANS MOURN BURNED POINT SHIRLEY

Club's Secretary, Only Person in Building, Had Narrow Escape with Life.

LOSS WILL REACH $50,000

Big politicians and other prominent men, not only of this city but all over the country, learn to-day with much regret of the destruction by fire at an early morning hour of the famous Point Shirley clubhouse at Point Shirley.

The actual financial loss is put at $50,000. No subimportant item in the total is $7,000 worth of wines, carefully selected for club stock.

Many a famous political gathering has taken place within the exclusive walls of Shirley Club. State and national officials have gathered there. Governors, United States Senators and other people "high up" have sat at its tables and discussed political matters. Many a political campaign has been formed at these gatherings. If the charred walls could have spoken, doubtless they could be able to relate much of exceeding public interest.

T. H. Daly of Everett, the clerk of the club, was the only occupant of the building. He was asleep in his room and was awakened by smoke. He escaped with difficulty and summoned the fire department, three alarms being sounded.

The flames were spectacular, lighting up the territory for miles around and being reflected in the water, attracting large parties of automobilists and yachtmen to the scene.

Although the clubhouse contained many rare paintings and much valuable furniture, the loss will fall only to a small quantity of silverware, all else being insured.

The Point Shirley Club is one of the most exclusive clubs about Boston, and their clubhouse at Winthrop was one of the most elaborate buildings of the kind. The building was formerly used as a hotel and Summer resort, and was known as Taft's Hotel, and, situated on the extreme easterly end of Winthrop, commanding a view of the ocean for miles, was an exceedingly popular as a resort. It was famous for its bird dinners.

BOMB THREAT SCARES MADRID

MADRID, Spain, June 4.—Threats of reprisals made by anarchists unless Ferrier, Nakens and others alleged accomplices of Morral in the attempt to assassinate King Alfonso and Queen Victoria on their wedding day are acquitted at their trials which began yesterday, have already alarmed this city.

The city awoke to-day to find huge placards posted at many places warning the government against the first bomb outrages if the alleged conspirators are convicted. The police removed the placards, but their appearances served to give the whole city a scare.

HURLED BY AUTO, HOLD CHAUFFEUR IN $5,000

INJURED MAN IN HOSPITAL; O'MEARA REPORTS ON TRAPS FOR SPEEDERS.

While John Coyle, aged fifty-four, was running after an electric car near Chelsea and Bunker Hill streets to-day he was struck by an automobile and buried against the back of the trolley car he wished to board. Coyle rebounded to the ground, suffering from multiple injuries.

Coyle was sent to the Relief Hospital, while John J. Nelson, chauffeur of the automobile, was arrested and taken to Charlestown District Court. As the court session was still on, Nelson was immediately arraigned and was held in $5,000 bonds for a continued hearing on June 11.

The police say the automobile was owned by Mrs. Breece of Manchester-by-the-Sea. Nelson, the chauffeur, lives in the same town. Coyle lives at No. 159 Chelsea street, Charlestown.

Police Commissioner O'Meara issued the following statement to-day, commenting on recent auto accidents in Boston:

"In consequence of the killing of a young woman by an automobile in Dorchester a fortnight ago the police of Station 11 have endeavored to make cases of overspeeding in Blue Hill avenue and Columbia road.

"The speed in each instance was timed accurately by policemen. Here are the results of the prosecutions:

"In two cases, in which the speed was shown to have been twenty-three miles an hour, the court ruled that the rate was not excessive, and the defendants were discharged.

"In two other instances in which the defendants were running at twenty-eight miles an hour they were found guilty and their cases were placed on file without penalty.

"The police of Boston will continue for the present this highly profitable work."

ROOSEVELT, WROUGHT UP, DENIES HARVARD TALK

Comment of Eliot and Wolcott Further Irritates Him; Admits He Said Something.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—President Roosevelt is very much wrought up by the report that was circulated through the newspapers of his alleged remarks at Lansing, Mich., with reference to his expected connection with Harvard College.

This is the statement that it was declared broadcast the President made:

"In one year and eleven months I expect to be relieved of active service in the Harvard organization."

The President says he didn't say it or anything like it. He may have said something, he admits, to be misunderstood by the organization of which he is a member. That means the Harvard Club.

When the President read what President Eliot and Dr. Henry Wolcott had to say of him as a prospective head of the college his anger increased and it is said he made remarks that ought to have made the ears of these Cape gentlemen burn.

Dr. Wolcott said that he would never vote for Mr. Roosevelt as president of Harvard. He said that the President is "not what you would call an accidental man."

Those who are in close touch with the President and are supposed to know something of his ambitions say that he would rather be a United States Senator from New York than hold any other office.

When Dr. Eliot and Dr. Wolcott meet the President, it is believed, here, there will be a colloquy that will be worth recording.

ROCKEFELLER CHIDES CLASS

NEW YORK, June 4.—"There is a great need for greater individual effort. Less than one-half of the whole number have carried out the promises made to me," John D. Rockefeller, Jr., told 150 members of his Bible class at the "social evening" in the parlors of the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church.

"It is easy to climb into the band wagon when the band is playing and there is plenty of enthusiasm, but it is quite a different thing to work alone when there is no band playing and no enthusiasm to spur one on.

"That is the trouble. There is not enough individual effort. Now it is up to the members of this class to carry out their promises. We cannot shirk work."

ARRAIGN GASKILL ON LARCENY COUNTS

EDNA MAY A BRIDE, GIVES UP FOOTLIGHTS

Special to the Boston American.

LONDON, June 4.—Renouncing the footlights for family life, Edna May of the "Belle of Mayfair" company married Oscar Lewisohn at 10 a. m. to-day in the registry office, the registrar officiating.

The party, numbering nine, drove from Lewisohn's place, Torwood, Ascot, in two automobiles and passed almost unnoticed into the registry.

In the auto with the bride were Mrs. Pettie, the bride's mother; her sister Jane and Mrs. Skerritt. In the second car was her younger sister, Marguerite.

Sydney Skerritt was best man. The registry was signed by Mr. and Mrs. Skerritt.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of white cloth with a bodice of fine lace, embossed with silver. She wore a large Rosmney picture hat of white chip straw trimmed with white tulle and with white St. Joseph lilies in front. Around her neck was a strand of pearls.

The party returned to lunch at Torwood, where fifty guests assembled.

Mr and Mrs. Lewisohn leave to-night for Paris on an extended auto tour of the Continent.

After the ceremony the bride remarked: "It is and it's over."

Edna May has been a stage favorite for a number of years, both in America and in England. She is a native of Syracuse, N. Y., where she was born in 1877. It is said she was divorced some time ago from Fred Titus, who had won fame as a bicycle rider.

KEPT AWAKE BY TALK; MAKES SAVAGE ATTACK

Brickmaker Dying at Hospital; Companion Placed Under Arrest.

HELD IN BAIL OF $1,000

Because William H. Anderson, thirty-nine years old, was disturbed by the loud talking of several employes of the New England Brick Company in a large room in which they sleep at the foot of Rindge avenue, North Cambridge, last night, he is locked up at Station 1, Cambridge, charged with a murderous attack on Philip Mandeo, another of the brick company's employes. Mandeo is dying at the Cambridge Hospital from a fractured skull and deep wounds on his head.

Shortly after eighteen of the Brick company employes retired last night several of them engaged in a verbal dispute in which Mandeo is said to have taken a prominent part. Anderson told him to keep quiet, but Mandeo insisted on talking and is alleged to have called Anderson names.

Placed Under Arrest.

Then Anderson is said to have hurled a stool across the room at Mandeo, which struck him on the head. A moment later, according to a number of witnesses, Anderson attacked Mandeo with an iron poker and beat him over the head until he became insensible.

The police were notified and took Mandeo to the hospital and Anderson to the police station.

By the time the police reached the house Mandeo had sufficiently recovered to be able to identify his assailant.

To-day the doctors removed a large piece of shattered bone from Mandeo's head.

Mandeo is a French Canadian and is thirty-five years old.

Anderson was arraigned before Judge Almy in the Cambridge District Court, pleaded not guilty, and was held in $1,000 bail until Monday to await developments in Mandeo's condition.

ILLNESS MADE SCHOOLMASTER TURN FORGER

Stepfather of Young Brooks, Who Killed Himself, Says He Was Mentally Deranged.

BODY TAKEN TO MAINE

TOPSFIELD, June 4.—That the forgeries and other escapades of Edric Day Brooks, the high school principal who committed suicide here after confessing to many misdeeds, were made while he was suffering from mental derangement is claimed by B. P. Knowles, step-father of Brooks, who came from South Montville, Me., to take the body home to-day.

"I think he always meant to do right," said Mr. Knowles to the BOSTON AMERICAN representative. "He has not been a model boy, I know, and he has had his failings, but he has been a good boy on the whole, however I cannot account for his strange actions of late other than the supposition that he was temporarily deranged. It is a sad ending for the boy."

Mr. Knowles came from South Montville last evening. He explains the use by Brooks of various names by saying that when he was seven years old Brooks lived with an uncle named Morris, and was called by her name. Later he had his name legally changed to Brooks, at the request of another aunt. He was the adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Knowles of South Montville, Me.

Brooks Was Good Organist.

Probably no better organist ever presided at the organ in the Congregational church in this town. His whole effort appeared to enter into any composition he selected.

Under his supervision the high school greatly improved in discipline and standing. He had the rare faculty of securing good results from all the pupils.

His frequent bouts of being heir to a fortune and his free expenditure of money among a certain few was known to nearly everyone in town and not liked.

Investigation shows that Brooks secured the poison that ended his career by making false statements to a physician and druggist in Beverly. Burdened with shame and apprehending arrest, Brooks, after his third degree incident in the Merchants' National Bank, Salem, where he made admission of his guilt as a forger, proceeded after transferring his automobile to the bank officials to Beverly. Shortly after 3 p. m. Saturday, he entered the office of Dr. Frank C. Lowles at No. 276 Cabot street, Beverly, and said that having been refused a quantity of cyanide of potassium in a drug store, he was anxious to secure some in order that the sufferings of a pet dog might be ended. He was given the prescription and purchased one drachm of the poison.

Earlier Escapades Revealed.

From Mr. Knowles' step-father there was learned to-day the details of some of Brooks' earlier escapades. Dr. Knowles helped him out of scrape after scrape until he became the black sheep.

Brooks had been a visitor at the Knowles farm in Southville quite often about three years ago. Since then he had been there but once, and started was to attend the funeral of his adopted mother last November.

He seemed to think himself able to buy almost anything and also several forgeries before he left home.

An interesting chapter in his life was his experience at Rockland, Me., last summer.

Brooks went there in July and negotiated for rooms at a fashionable boarding house. He said he was at the head of D. H. Brooks & Co., a dry goods jobbing house, High street, Boston, and that his rating in Bradstreet's was $120,000.

He represented himself as having taken a deep interest in a boy in Waterville, Me., and intended to defray the cost of the latter's education. With this end in view he had paid the boy's father $3,000 for his time and with the money the bank cashier of Portland had deposited $2,000 to cover expenses of board and education in this city.

He selected a suite of rooms and ordered expensive mahogany furniture, which was to be paid for and delivered when all arrangements were completed.

The landlady of the boarding house was under instructions to draw through a local bank on Mr. Brooks's alleged deposit with the Security Trust Company in Portland. Brooks arranged the details of tuition with Principal L. E. Moulton of the high school.

TO FIGHT CONSUMPTION, STOP KISSING THE BABY

New Jersey Physicians Find Way to Eliminate White Plague in Ten Years.

If you have a baby, don't let its auntie, its uncle or even its rich grandfather kiss it.

Nail a "Don't kiss the baby sign" on your front and back doors, and then see that nobody violates the rule.

This is the advice of 2,000 eminent physicians, who have just had a convention at Atlantic City, N. J., and they have handed it out after most careful consideration.

Next to the house fly, they say, the habit of kissing the baby is the most dangerously vital manner of spreading consumption.

Relatives Offset State.

"All the State does to protect the infant from tuberculosis infection through a safeguarded milk supply is offset largely by the avalanche of aunties, cousins and callers who just must kiss the little darling," declares Franklin Dye, secretary of the New Jersey Commission on Boring Tuberculosis, who has spent years in studying means by which the spread of the white plague can be stayed.

"Don't have any carpets in the house," say the New Jersey doctors.

Mothers should give up the habit of wearing long skirts.

Papa and mamma and all the other children should remove their shoes when they enter the room in which baby is.

Long skirts, solemnly announce the physicians, gather in dirt—germs on the streets, carpets retain them until they fly down the throat of the little one, and shoes are considered almost as dangerous as conveyors as the sweeping skirts which the pretty mother loves to wear.

Don'ts to Observe to Kill Off White Plague

DON'T

Kiss the baby.

Wear long skirts.

Wear shoes in the house.

Leave them at the door.

Let baby's uncle, auntie or cousin kiss him.

Have any carpets in your home.

These are some rules laid down by 2,000 New Jersey doctors for the prevention of consumption among babies.

"The Japanese," said one of the doctors during an address, "have the right idea. They have no carpets, they always take off their shoes when they enter the house, and statistics show that Japan has very little consumption."

It is guaranteed by the New Jersey doctors that if rules such as they have advocated with others which are advanced every day by the students of hygienic methods are obeyed consumption will disappear.

They go even further than the Western doctor who declared a few days ago that tuberculosis can be eliminated in twenty-five years by isolating every person in whom consumption appears.

"Protect the baby," they say, "and there will be no such thing as consumption in ten years."

BLOODSHED IS FEARED IN FRISCO STRIKE

Progress of Rebuilding Blocked by Refusal of Builders to Accede to Demands of Men.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—Rioting and bloodshed is feared, and there are indications that the progress of the city in rebuilding will be blocked for some time, as a result of the refusal of the building contractors to yield to the demands of their employes for better wages.

Building is at a standstill and many thousand more men will be thrown out of employment as the strike spread.

At present there are on strike about 500 electrical workers, 500 beer bottlers, 200 coopers, 2,000 laundry workers, 500 telephone girls and 2,000 others. The electrical workers employed by the telephone companies are threatening to go out in sympathy with the operators. But this is not the most important phase of the labor situation. There will be practically no more building laws at present specified.

The cost of new building has been 50 to 100 per cent greater than it should be. Agents have stopped loading money on those fertilizing values, and during the year they have become loaded up with these unsafe loans, and, they are calling a halt.

HEADACHE POWDERS KILL MEDFORD MAN

MEDFORD, June 4.—Two deadly headache powders taken by Montgomery Clary at his boarding house, No. 74 South street, resulted in his death an hour later. There is no suspicion of suicide.

To Get More Strength from Your Food.

WHEN the Bowels are filled with undigested food we may be a great deal worse off than if we were half starved.

Because food that stays too long in the Bowels decays there, just as if it stayed too long in the open air.

Well, when food decays in the Bowels, through delayed and overdue action, what happens?

* * *

The millions of little Suction Pumps that line the Bowels and Intestines then draw Poison from the decayed Food, instead of the Nourishment they were intended to draw.

This Poison gets into the blood and, in time, spreads all over the body, unless the Cause of Constipation is promptly removed.

That cause of Constipation is Weak, or Lazy Bowel Muscles.

When your Bowel Muscles grow flabby they need Exercise to strengthen them, not "Physic" to pamper them.

* * *

It's name is "CASCARETS," and its price is Ten Cents a box.

So, if you want the same natural action that a six mile walk in the country would give you, (without the weariness) take one Cascaret at a time, with intervals between, till you reach the exact condition you desire.

One Cascaret at a time will properly cleanse a foul Breath, or Coated Tongue.

Don't fail to carry the Vest Pocket Cascaret Box with you constantly.

All Druggists sell them—over ten million boxes a year.

Be very careful to get the genuine, made only by the Sterling Remedy Company and never sold in bulk. Every tablet stamped "CCC." 3761

E. GERRY BROWN WILL ADDRESS HUB LEAGUERS

The Independence League of Ward 23 will hold a meeting at the league's headquarters, No. 27 Poplar street, on Thursday evening. E. Gerry Brown, candidate for Lieutenant Governor on the Independence League ticket last year, will be the principal speaker of the evening. Other prominent workers in the party will be present and will deliver short addresses.

The principal field of discussion of the evening will be the importance of urging all members of either of the old parties to go immediately to the office of the Election Commissioners at No. 1 Old Court house and take the necessary steps for becoming enrolled as members of the Independence League party.

FEARING MURDER, GIVES AWAY $30,000

PULASKI, Tenn., June 4.—Imagining he would be murdered for his money, Willis Smith, eighty-four years old, has flooded the county with $30,000 in quarters and half dollars which he has been hiding in fruit jars for many years. Smith once put some money in a bank and, saw the cashier pay it out on a check. He with drew his deposit, and he would not intrust with a concern that would not keep his money "better than that."

POLICE QUELL RIOT, ARREST 11 LEADERS

Eighty Italians who had been employed by Woodbury & Leighton, contractors, on a new building being constructed by them for the Lovejoy Wharf Trust Company on Causeway street, near the North Station, engaged in a riot to-day and a squad of policemen had to be called to quell the disturbance.

Six men were arrested, one of them will be charged with carrying concealed weapons. The rest were put to work on the job under a new foreman. Wilfred Ferraro, the strikers gathered and threatened to do the others bodily harm.

They did not get much beyond the threatening point when the police arrived.

CARNEGIE TO HELP CHICAGO CATHOLICS

CHICAGO, June 4.—St. Boniface Roman Catholic Church, erected in 1904, and noted for its fine architecture, is about to become the possessor of a new organ, made possible through the gift of Andrew Carnegie, who has agreed to defray one-half of the cost.

CALLS O'MEARA SMALL, NARROW

Alderman Bell, Republican, expressed his sentiments in the Board of Aldermen yesterday regarding the action of Police Commissioner O'Meara in the matter of refusing to permit Grand Army posts to parade with music on the morning of Memorial Sunday.

"He has a small and a narrow streak in him," said Alderman Bell, "and has shown a small and narrow pin-prone judgment."

The board adopted an order declaring that the State law which prohibited purchase of the Grand Army, Spanish War Veterans and Sons of Veterans on Sunday morning with music should be repealed.

50,000 MINERS WILL STRIKE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 4.—The executive board of the United Mine Workers of America, eleventh district, has ordered about 5,000 miners to leave the mines Friday of this week. President Van Horn of the miners said that the strike will involve 1,400 men of the Deering mines, 1,000 in the Shirley Hill mines, 1,500 in the Coal Hurst company's mines, 500 in the Jackson Hill mines, and 500 in the South Indiana Railway mines. There are eight or ten prisoners.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

How To Find Out.

Till a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to rise often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

"HURDY GURDY GIRL" SEASON'S BIGGEST HIT

New Musical Comedy by Richard Carle Given First Performance on Any Stage.

That Richard Carle is as sparkling a success as a playwright as he is as a comedian was evidenced last evening when his musical creation, "The Hurdy Gurdy Girl," won the instant approval of a packed house at its initial production at the Tremont Theatre.

The piece is full of the flavor of this popular actor's droll wit, though he himself does not appear in the cast, and it is bound to be the Summer season's distinguishing feature. Starting with catchy music throughout; its comedy is free, wholesome and genuine; it has the glitter of unusually pretty girls in bewitching costumes; a pretty plot and unsurpassed scenic attractiveness.

The piece is a satire on the New York "newly rich," with society aspirations built around the personality of Jeremiah Otis, the sausage king. The "Hurdy Gurdy Girl" is supposedly their long-lost daughter until the finale of the piece, which a merrily confusing situation is straightened out to the satisfaction of the whole Tom Otis, much in love with the musical little maiden.

The comedy is largely furnished by John E. Hazzard, as Judge Hill, a dignified very susceptible to the charms of the fair sex; William Manning of the "Spelling the Names" spectacle notified him that he had been "fired," shook hands with him and gave him a solid gold fire chief's badge, the gift of the Wonderland management. The office then rendered the apparent insubordination of his force.

Globe Theatre

It was manifest from the enthusiastic audience in the Globe Theatre last night that John Craig had wisely decided to continue "The Darling of the Gods" on his bill for this week at least. Unusual pains had been taken with the preparations for the presentation of the famous Belasco play, and Mr. Craig has been rewarded. From the first night the performance has been wholly praiseworthy for the effectiveness of its setting and the capable manner in which the players have interpreted their different roles.

Howard Athenaeum

All roads led to the Old Howard yesterday. The bill was headed by the Millard Brothers, European cyclists. Lee Tung Foo, Chinese baritone, made a strong impression. Chefalo and Capretta, wand enchanters; Anderson and Gilbert, weird duellists; the Female Minstrels, with G. H. Alexander as interlocutor and Henry Myers and Fred Bowman on the ends; Marron and Marron, Celtic humorists; the girls of the burlesque company; Sandow and Lambert, physical culture stunts; Butler and Lamar, dancers, and the Howard Comedy Company were all in the bill.

Palace Theatre

While people were bemoaning the weather yesterday, the Palace Theatre was crowded. The big stock company has two comedy burlesques, "Who Owns the Baby?" and "Skimmerhorn's Boy." T. P. Thomas has the leading role. The vaudeville bill includes the Kimball brothers, comedians; Green and Weathers, colored cycle riding and singing specialty; Black and Grant, comedy sketch; Zarrell Brothers, feats of strength; E. E. Perry, comedian; Miss Ethel Brandon, vocalist; John J. Black, Irish comedian; Gardner, West and Sunshine, singing and dancing specialty; Pete Ortlieb, monologue comedian, and new moving pictures.

Lyceum Theatre

Stock company is a very popular aggregation with the patrons here. The burlesques, "Pete's Vacation" and "Peter's Peck-a-Boo Hotel," are the two best skits yet presented. Belle Farrell is principal burlesquer. Hilda Hawthorne, soprano, opened the bill. Charles Banks, monologist; C. W. Williams, ventriloquist; Billy Barlow, singing and dancing, and moving pictures by Bert Bonanomo complete the bill.

It Is Dyspepsia

A Multitude of Ailments Arise from Indigestion.

It is generally conceded that a multitude of human ailments arise from indigestion, and in its various forms it taxes the skill of the physician to prescribe the proper remedies. It is undeniable that the closest intimacy exists between happiness and good digestion. A healthy digestion aids materially in making a cheerful disposition, and the "feast of reason and flow of soul" is due as much to the functional integrity of the stomach as to a strong and generous mental organization.

The following prescription is said to be good, and any one can easily mix it at home.

Get the ingredients, which are all of vegetable extraction, and harmless, from any good pharmacist and mix them by shaking well in a bottle: Tincture Cinchona Compound, 2½ ounces; Kastor Compound, 1 ounce, and Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic, 1 ounce.

Take in teaspoonful doses after each meal.

Those who are suffering from indigestion should prepare this mixture and take as directed for a few days and note results.

TEAR-DIMMED EYES WELCOME WARFIELD BACK

Begins Farewell Engagement in "The Music Master" at Majestic Theatre.

With many a tear-dimmed eye, but with many a happy laugh to compensate, a fascinated audience watched David Warfield and his competent company play "The Music Master" at the Majestic Theatre last night. The production was an opening, in one sense, as it was the first night of the present engagement. But it was merely a renewal for many of the spectators, a renewal of former acquaintance of former pleasure and of what is to come for Mr. Warfield.

At the end of the first act there was much applause. But at the end of the second act, when Warfield rises to sublime human interest height, the audience clapped insistently for him to come out and speak. Curtain calls were the most they received, however, as Warfield smilingly shook his head in indication fancy of the speech forthcoming. This is a farewell two weeks' engagement and it is safe to say the Majestic will be jammed at all performances. The company is the same as previously, with Mr. Warfield and Miss Antoinette Perry in the leading roles. The Belasco staging is as perfect as ever.

"THE MASCOT" BEST OF SEASON

For music it's the catchiest, for plot it's the snappiest, and for the manner in which it is staged it's positively the best opera seen at the Castle Square Theatre this season. "The Mascot" by Edmond Audran, musical comic opera, by Edmond Audran, from the rising curtain till the final piece de resistance. This is a farewell two weeks' engagement and it is safe to say the Majestic will be jammed at all performances. The company is the same as previously, with Mr. Warfield and Miss Antoinette Perry in the leading roles. The Belasco staging is as perfect as ever.

Keith's Theatre

Bidding farewell to Boston as vaudeville stars, Will M. Cressy and Blanche Dayne are presenting at Keith's one of the cleverest sketches portraying hard-headed old New England philosophy that Mr. Cressy has ever written. It is called "The New Depot." They divide honors with six pretty and saucy maids in a jury ballot. In "Those Were Happy Days," Howard and North are founders of the "old home" spirit. Beatrice McKenzie, Walter Shannon and Harry Sullivan rip off popular airs inverted to fit a side musical comedy. "The White Flirtation," Gladys Clark, Bergman and Mahoney in swift-footed turns are a hit; Dora Rocca is a gypsy violinist of ability. Martin brothers at the xylophones are better than many others; Zeno Jordan and Zeno in aerial stunts, the Dunedin troupe of novelty cyclists, Irvin R. Walker in a really excellent monologue. Mr. and Mrs. Allison in "Minnie from Minnesota," Neff and Miller in buck and wing, Francis Wood, hoopologist, and Kinetograph pictures complete an unusually attractive programme.

Orpheum Theatre

An all-star combination is the attraction at the Orpheum this week. An audience that taxed the house to its utmost capacity last evening showed its appreciation of the excellence of the programme by hearty and almost constant applause and laughter. Winners on the bill were Pauline Hall, soprano and mind reader; Happy Jack Gardner, who sang entertainingly; Mrs. Dale Leigh and company, in a one-act playlet, "Old Glory Nan"; Neff and Miller, in clever dancing act; Charles Barry and Hilda Hawthorne, songs and dances; Lucy Rolfe and company, in a fine musical act, and Welch, Mealey and Montrose, in good novelty acrobatic act.

Austin & Stone's Museum

For a second and final week "Down in Old Mobile" is the leading attraction at Austin & Stone's. It serves to introduce a large company of colored singers and dancers, who present a recordingly varied program. Other features are contributed by John Smith in song recitation, Joseph Mosley in character impersonations and by Pearl La Rose, Elsie Bailey, Emma May, Nettie Thornton and John Topp. In the first act two separate shows are given by the Minstrel Maids and a company of vaudeville artists.

GAY LORD QUEX PLEASES ON FIRST NIGHT

Miss Lawrence as Sophie Fullgarney Gives Further Evidence of Versatility.

Judging from the applause which greeted Lillian Lawrence and her strong stock company at the Park last night, the "Gay Lord Quex" is due for a successful run this week. The opening show was all that the first nighters could demand and the frequent curtain calls brought the star and her leading man, Charles Miller, to the fore. As Sophie Fullgarney, the mutton-eater, Miss Lawrence was seen at her best, and the role gave her ample chance to show her versatility. As the Marquis of Quex, wooer of an innocent girl after a career filled with human frailties as his goal, Charles Miller ably supported the star. The staging of the play and the costumes added greatly to the success of the production. Miss Herrick, Blendini, Muriel, the young fiancee of the Marquis, assisted materially in the success attained.

THOUSANDS VISIT WONDERLAND PARK

Wonderland has only been open a few days, yet in that short space of time and with weather conditions none of the best, this real recreation park at Revere Beach has handsomely entertained thousands. In a ring close to the grand stand and on the high wire stretched above it is given the act of the great free circus. Pretty Mlle. De Lorez gives an astonishing exhibition of feats of contortion and clever Walter Wentworth is trying to imitate her work creates the heartiest laughter. Chief of all the great attractions of the week at Wonderland, however, are the daily flights of Lincoln in his airship.

Colonial Theatre

Three hours of solid enjoyment with not a dull moment and a clean, wholesome show, was the programme given to a packed house last night at the Colonial Theatre. This was the thirty-fifth performance of "The Time, the Place and the Girl," and the opening night at the Colonial, the company having been shifted from the Tremont. The finished work of Mr. Dougan, who is one of the few natural comedians, was infectious. The graceful dancing of Harriet Burt, who is also possessed of a beautiful voice; the cooperation of Vivo McMillan. The girls in fact, the whole cast were so fitted to their parts that one lost sight of the fact that the scene was not real.

Bowdoin Square Theatre

That thrilling melodrama, "A Child of the Slums," was the attraction presented at the Bowdoin Square Theatre. In the title role of Ruth, Charlotte Hunt proved herself fully equal to all emergencies. Laura Bowdoin, who impersonated Lucy, was well adapted for the part, while Arthur Behrens as Frank Wentworth came in for a full share of applause.

Women Ought to Learn the Secret of Walking Well

By Lena Gilbert Ford

NEXT in importance to the law of self-preservation comes—or should come—the law of self-esteem. This law compels us to make the most of ourselves, and differs from vanity in that it is a virtue, and not a vice; indeed, vanity itself might better be overdone than undergone—the results are not nearly so distressing to the folk that have to look at us.

One of the first things to consider, and one that is often entirely neglected, is the art of standing and walking well.

From childhood the training in this direction should begin, and Mother Nature starts us off with some very good ideas.

Skipping of the rope gives us just the exercise required for the graceful walker later in life, and throwing of the ball cannot be excelled as a chest exercise, which is the root of a good body pose.

Nearly all of our childhood games have a direct influence on the muscles that are brought into play in the later search after beauty culture. But soon skirts are donned by the girl and each year they become longer, each year more hampering to the free use of the limbs. The most natural result of this is that the steps are shortened and the early wearing of stays prevents the free swing of the hips.

Hips Should Move

WITH each step of the walk, the hips should move slightly. When the right foot is stepping forward the right hip should advance slightly, but there should be no perceptible motion of the shoulders. If they are quite relaxed, they will sympathize with the swaying of the hip, but anyone who has a distinct shoulder movement will be sure to walk awkwardly.

Nevertheless one of the most important of the walking exercises is the shoulder exercise, as it is essential that the shoulders be relaxed and well developed.

Only a very small percentage of women have a straight back. Walking up and down stairs in a wrong way is responsible for many cases of round shoulder.

How seldom you see a woman go upstairs deliberately! There seems to be present an inexplicable desire to hurry. The strain on the back is great when only half the foot is made to support the weight of the body.

The foot should be placed firmly on the step and the body lifted slowly and regularly into position. If the toes are turned slightly outward, the strain will be less than when the foot is placed directly straight on the stair.

You need not go to the expense of a gymnasium class in order to learn to walk beautifully. Just a few minutes of daily stalking about a room, military fashion, will accomplish wonders in a few weeks.

This exercise consists in lifting the knee in front on a level with the waist line. The hands are placed firmly on the hips, and after the knee is drawn up the toe of the foot is thrown violently outward. Then carry the foot to the ground in its original attitude.

Cultivate Poise

YOUR foot has performed a circular movement that extends the training of soldiers, and cannot be excelled for the development of the hips and steadying the poise of the body.

The matter of poise differs greatly in person. Generally a nervous person has an unsteady poise, but this does not always follow. Good skaters and good dancers have, either naturally or by cultivation, a steady poise.

If you walk correctly a book laid flatly on the top of the head will not fall off. This has more to do with the carriage of the head and development of the neck than with the body in general.

The old Greek beauties used to sway their heads gently from side to side at each step, but with our busy days of rushing about and athletic sports I think that is no longer considered essential for the perfect walk. It belonged to gentler times.

An assistance in the exercise in question is the placing of a wand through the elbows at the back. Taking a deep breath the abdomen will draw in and the chest will expand. The deep breath is the fundamental principle of all physical health and beauty.

Few indeed are the people who have the advantage of the full power of their lungs.

Is Magnificence in Dress But a Link Between CIVILIZED AND SAVAGE?

The Modern Belle with Coiffure Puffed, Coiled and Ornamented.

By ARLETTA BURROUGHS—No. I

IT is as true in the world of fashion as anywhere else that "There is nothing new under the sun," for the society woman takes as her model for ornamentation the most barbaric of barbaric tribes.

The grand dame whose coiffure is a mass of puffs and coils placed upon the top of her head and made to stand as high as possible can see the original of the style where a dusky belle has created a structure able to lie very differences to that of the seeker after originality.

As for the ornaments which decorate the coiffure, the modern coronet is simply a modest copy of the elaborate crown effects made by the savage arrangement of bands and jewels crossed and wound about the head, until the latter belle must be proud of the result.

Like the Modern "Rats"

The immense puffs above the ears of the dark beauty are no more exaggerated in shape and size than those made by the "rats" so much worn by modern women who pride themselves in being strictly up to date. The decoration by means of little pendants of ivory or semiprecious stones is not only less barbaric than the adornment of the society woman's head with plumes and aigrettes.

Ornamentation of the ears of the girl who keeps up with the fashion differs only in degree from that of her uncivilized sister. The latter prides herself on the size of the hoops worn in her ears, and is considered modish in proportion to the weight of her ear ornaments, while the former seeks a more artistic setting for her ear jewels and values them according to the worth of the gems set in them.

Should the threatened revival of the immense pendants of our grandmothers' time materialize, the resemblance to the barbaric earring will be only the more accentuated.

Another Comparison

Note the comparison of a modern society belle and a beauty of a North African tribe. Neither neck is complete in its ornamentation until it is strung with some sort of a necklace. It may be a string of priceless pearls in the one case and of crude stones in the other, but the idea is the same—it must be there. In neither case has the Creator been given the credit of doing things well enough in the way of creating beauty.

The society woman with her magnificent ermine is only imitating the savage woman in her most barbaric state, where the skins of animals were her only clothes and where the pain caused to the animals whose death furnished her with these furs entered not into consideration by her savage mind.

It is well for us when, in our egotism, we are inclined to feel ourselves far superior to our uncivilized sisters to pause and ponder over the fact that we try on every occasion to copy them in their appearance.

Ways to Solve the Pressing Problem of Pin Money

"HOW can I earn pin money?"

That is the burden of a great many letters that the editor of this page is constantly receiving from women who feel the need or the ambition to earn some money of their own.

The letters come from young and old, married and single women. It is the era of the independent woman, and to the average woman independence means having money of her very own, money earned by her own efforts, that she can spend as she pleases without the necessity of accounting to father, husband or brother.

Young girls in school or college have many needs and many wishes for which they need money, and yet do not feel like asking their fathers for any more than the generous sum he is expending for the necessities of their education.

They may know that he is exerting every effort to do what he is doing, and yet it is difficult for him in his love to refuse any reasonable request.

Young women whose lives are those of stay-at-home daughters long to be able to help supply their purses with the dollars which are so necessary.

Young wives with plenty of time at their disposal wonder how they can put some of that time to advantage by earning some money so that when they want to buy hubby a gift or squander a few dollars in some delightful bit of feminine foolishness, they can do it with the happy consciousness that it is their own money.

Mothers with growing families puzzle their brains to think how they can add even a mite to the family exchequer so that Mary can go to dancing school and Tommy can have the camera he so much wants for his Christmas present.

Many a flourishing business enterprise that to-day engages the efforts of hundreds of men and women started as a "pin money" venture.

"Tall oaks from little acorns grow."

The editor believes that the best answer to any question comes out of experience along that special line.

Therefore, the women who are earning pin money are those best qualified to tell others how to earn it.

The question has been put to several women who have successfully tried their luck at money earning, and their answers are published.

Letters are asked from every woman who earns or has tried to earn pin money.

How did you do it?

Write and tell us.

Let your experience help your sister.

Address Pin Money Editor, BOSTON AMERICAN, No. 80 Summer street, Boston.

PIN MONEY EDITOR:

I am the elder of two daughters. My mother is a widow, and runs her own home and has income sufficient to support the future of us comfortably. Still there are many things which take money that my sister and myself never would feel justified in asking my mother for.

My sister is domestic in her tastes and an excellent cook. She has always made the most delicious pickles and preserves, and her mince pies have been famous.

She was urged to sell some preserves to a friend a few years ago, and from that sale she was besieged with orders, until now she supplies over twenty families with jellies, preserves and pickles, and has more orders for mince meat than she can fill.

I am a clever needlewoman, and for four years have made a handsome income by fine embroidery, such as collars and cuffs sets, gowns, shirtwaists and bat clothes, while making a specialty of initials or monograms on table linens.

We each have a nice little bank account besides having enjoyed several journeys and other luxuries from our earnings.

SLEEP A GREAT AID TO LOOKS

SLEEP is a great preserver of youth. Eight hours at night and a short nap during the day will do much to keep the face free from wrinkles. Always sleep with the bedroom window open a few inches at the top, both in Summer and Winter.

A daily morning bath, tepid in Winter and cold in Summer, with a brisk rub to follow, will keep the skin fresh and clear. Two hours should be spent in the open air, walking, riding or playing games.

All tight clothing, and especially tight lacing, must be avoided, as compression disturbs the circulation and often the cause of enlarged veins and red noses.

Dr. Lettsom declared that he was famous even in her old age for her beautiful, clear complexion and freedom from wrinkles, which was persuaded to tell the secret of her youthful looks.

The answer was simple. Abstinence had been the rule of her life. No tea, coffee or tobacco or any kind. To keep well drink lemonade or water, eat apples, grapes and figs regularly. To bathe the face juice of a lemon every other day. Never fail to walk regularly. Bathe frequently.

Useful Presents for June Brides

WHEN it comes to buying presents for the June bride, it is not every one who can afford gifts of cut glass, silver or imported china, for it may be a trial to judge the circumstances of the young couple and try to make your gift one which will be in harmony with their future home.

Now that so many young couples start married life in the suburbs, where porches play so prominent a part in homes, it may be well to consider a gift for the outside of the house, and decide upon some pretty hammock, a wall pocket for flowers, a rustic table, or possibly a garden seat, as vas hammocks which are so popular this year.

An attractive porch is the one thing which really creates a cozy thought at small money, and yet no one seems to remember this new "room" in the house when buying a present for the Summer bride.

"THE HERITAGE OF HATE"

CHAPTER XXXV.

Jack Returns

Copyright, 1907, by American Journal-Examiner

"DO, Mr. John, I can't say as you're lookin' any the better in health since you've been at Harvard," said Horrocks ruefully, as he served Jack Heath's breakfast. "Them dead languages and mathematics and examinations and things never was and never will be good for anyone's constitootion. When I see you step into the hall here I says to myself, 'Ah! I see what he's been up to. He's been studying too hard.'"

Jack Heath leaned back in the carved oak settee on which he sat facing the hall fireplace.

"Not a bit of it, Horrocks," he laughed, as he carelessly blew the ash from the end of his cigarette. But in spite of the laugh there was a troubled look in his eyes.

"Sindy doesn't worry me very much. We're no time for that sort of thing at Harvard. There's too much else to go done—and letter, for example."

Horrocks looked up, making a second and more critical survey of the weary young man before him. Then he slowly shook his grey head.

"Athletics alone couldn't have pulled you down to what you are now, Mr. Jack," said he with sorrowful conviction.

"I can see a glance that you can't in training. Your eyes have lost that bright look that they had; you haven't got no color, and your skin's flabby, and your hand's downright shaky. And the smoke of them cigarettes you're holding, how it waggles about! There's something not altogether right with you, sir; and, I must say, I'm very sorry to see it."

Pauline's Beauty

Jack laughed again, even more constrainedly than before.

"You needn't concern yourself on that score, Horrocks," said he with forced light-ness. "There's nothing really wrong with me. I'm a bit seedy, that's all, and tired out with traveling, perhaps. Don't chat on it for some reason or other; and it's my private opinion that she'll force Miss Pauline into accepting him."

"Not if I can prevent it," declared Jack hotly. "Nodd, indeed! What next, I wonder? Hello, Brenda!" he cried, recalling the St. Bernard, who, tired of waiting for him, had bounded off on her own account across the wide, velvety lawn.

An Interruption

Whatever further remarks he might have intended to make concerning the little lawyer's audacity were cut short by the appearance of Mrs. Heath, who came from the garden door of the drawing room, resplendent in a wonderful Parisian dress of mingled faint yellow and deep pink, colors which set off to perfection her slight figure, pink hair and fine, black eyes; while the pink parasol which she carried concealed from the prying sunlight the yellow haggardness of her complexion under the ineffectual powder.

Jack greeted her somewhat absently, being occupied meanwhile with his own reflections. In the light of this communication of Horrocks's, various little remarks that his father had recently made appeared to him under a new aspect.

For instance, they had chanced to-day, while driving from the railway station, to speak incidentally to the family dealings with Nodd; and Aubrey had said gloomily that with regard to these dealings his hand was forced.

He had hinted—or so Jack understood—that they were in debt to Nodd for certain moneys expended on improving the estate, and that, therefore, it was necessary to conciliate Nodd a little—might, indeed, strive to conciliate him in ways yet unforeseen.

"Never!"

So these "ways yet unforeseen" referred to a possibility of the pompous little money leader marrying Pauline! "Never," said Jack to himself, "never should such degradation befall his father and—dear, black eyes; while the pink parasol which she carried concealed from the prying sunlight the yellow haggardness of her complexion under the ineffectual powder.

TOMORROW'S BEST BARGAINS IN BOSTON'S BIG STORES

"I'LL winds" in the way of weather are blowing good things galore straight into the path of the bargain hunter. Merchants are being put to it to move all but give away their Spring goods, and what is to them practically a lost season will prove a veritable harvest for shoppers. Below is a guide to good things to-morrow.

HENRY SIEGEL CO. because of the early and backward season, are going to sell to-morrow 200 $5 trimmed hats, slightly soiled by handling, for just $1.98 each. This lot includes a great variety of the newest shapes and hats.

FILENE'S will offer a lot of misses' $10 short covert coats, fitted and box styles, at $7.50; misses' $20 fancy mixture skirts, velvet finish bottom, $10, and misses' $5 linen skirts for $2.75.

JORDAN MARSH CO. will have on the fourth floor a handsome bowl and tray, for cracked ice, cucumbers or berries, of very fine Austrian ware, with beautiful rosebud Dresden design, a regular $2.25 value for the ridiculous price of 98 cents.

JAMES A. HOUSTON CO. offer you chantungy dresses in tan, gray and blue, just the thing suitable for beach wear, since somewhat linkless, but your size may be among the lot; $3 value for $1.98, just for to-morrow. You will find these with other exceptional values on the fourth floor.

BAILEY'S Boylston Street Rubber Store has an item sure to interest the mothers of boys planning vacation and camping trips. For just $2 each they will sell a splendid line of boys' $5 double texture mackintoshes in sizes 5 to 12 years. These coats have velvet collars and are in the best colors of blue, brown and oxford grays.

R. H. WHITE CO. will for one day sell their handsome $1.50 belt buckles and pins for $1. These are in the newest fancy patterns, in oxidized silver, Roman gold and Dutch finish, and many of them set with beautiful stones. You'll surely want one if you see them and may see them displayed in the Bedford street window.

BACON'S Uptown Department Store will put on sale a lot of drummer's samples of men's all-linen 25-cent handkerchiefs for 12½ cents; also 50-cent tooth brushes with the ventilated backs for 10 cents each.

HOUGHTON & DUTTON CO. will have a basement bargain for Summer cottagers in a nickel-plated copper chafing dish, with the very best make of lamp. They will mark it from $4.49 to $2.98 for just to-morrow's selling.

WOLF'S, "My Clothier," have a limited number of $1.98 silk umbrellas, which they will sell at $1.49 to-morrow. These have paragon frames and natural wood handles.

MacDONNELL'S Tremont Temple Store offers as a special for Wednesday about 300 fancy figured lawn short kimonas at 25 cents each, actually worth 89 cents. If there are any left Thursday and they will be marked to 29 cents, and they're a bargain at this price.

DODGE-SPEAR CO., in the basement, will offer ladies' garden seats, including hoe, rake and shovel, for 15 cents; also a 50-piece dinner set, consisting of "Hold-fast" spring clothes pins for 5 cents.

GEORGE E. PLUMMER'S offer misses' silk suits in novelty or fancy mixtures and blue and black panama $10 and $15 suits, marked just for to-morrow's selling to $5.

THE FASHION will offer a $10 taffeta silk accordion pleated skirt for $6.98.

CHICKEN CUSTARD

SCALD together one cup of strong chicken stock and one cup of cream. Pour it over the well-beaten yolks of three eggs and two cups of double boiler until it thickened. Salt to taste and serve cool in cups.

MRS. W. WRAY.

No. 814 Chelsea street, Worcester.

GINGERBREAD PUDDING

FILL a common sized baking dish half full of apples, cut in thick slices, scatter over them a little sugar, nutmeg, cinnamon and half cup of water. Make the gingerbread of one half cup molasses, half cup sugar, half cup butter, one cup boiling water, one teaspoon soda, one teaspoon each of ginger and cinnamon, flour enough to make a thin mixture. Pour over apples and bake half hour. Serve with sauce.

TUTTI FRUTTI FROSTING

Boil one-half teacup of water with three cups of white sugar until it is very thick and sugary. Beat the whites of two eggs to stiff froth and pour syrup over them, beating until thick and one-half pound chopped almonds, one small half cup of raisins and a little citron sliced fine. This is very nice for sponge cake.

GOOD ADVICE

I WOULD like to answer "Lawrence" in Tuesday's AMERICAN, printed under "Cook Book Free for Choice Recipes." Go to your family doctor and ask him for a prescription for any patent medicine you need for yourself or children. Don't monkey with such stuff as medicines used without professional advice and, above all, don't poison your poor children with drugs.

Yours for health, "LOWELL."

DELICIOUS CORN CAKE

SIFT together one cup of cornmeal, one cup and a half of flour, three teaspoons of baking powder, four tablespoons of sugar, two eggs, one cup and a half of milk, one egg, one teaspoon of salt. Mix all together and add two tablespoons of melting water. Bake in a hot oven twenty minutes.

WAR VETERAN CAPTURED BY SNAPSHOT MAN

Falls Victim of Camera After Escaping Perils of Sherman's March.

WATCH THE NEXT GROUP

Comrade G. W. Pierce of Kinsley Post, No. 139, G. A. R., a Civil War veteran and one of the heroes of General Sherman's famous "Marching Through Georgia" trip, is the latest victim of the Snapshot Man of the BOSTON AMERICAN.

Comrade Pierce didn't get photographed, so far as he knows, in the march to the sea. There were plenty of people who were trying to shoot the Union men, but not with anything so harmless as a camera. But in these piping times of peace Comrade Pierce is a target of the Photographic snapshooter.

The comrade was in uniform, for he had been out Memorial Day with his fellow veterans of the old Second Massachusetts, part of the Twentieth Army Corps.

The sturdy veteran lives at No. 78 Sycamore street, Winter Hill, Somerville, in one of the most historic houses in this historic section. It is the old Tufts house, also known as the Lee house. It was built in 1774 and was the headquarters of Major-General Lee from 1775 to 1776. General Washington often put up there. In fact, Comrade Pierce now occupies at night in the very room where the Father of his Country often laid his weary form to rest in the trying times of the Revolution.

The Snapshot Man, while busy identifying subjects of his last trip, is preparing for his next and sixth snapshot tour. Watch the columns of the BOSTON AMERICAN every day for announcement. may mean $10 for you.

STAFFORD GETS DIVORCE; HUB NAME IN CASE

Fall River Clubman Freed from Woman He Wooed Against Family Wishes.

EVIDENCE IS WHISPERED

FALL RIVER, June 4.—After a trial so quietly conducted that none of the whispered evidence could be heard at the reporters' table, but a few feet away from the judge's bench in the courtroom here yesterday, John P. Stafford, a wealthy clubman of this city, was granted a divorce from his wife, who is considered the handsomest woman in Fall River. Although the identity of the man whom Mr. Stafford accused of having broken up his home was cloaked in mystery, and those interested refused to give out his name after it was whispered to the judge, it is believed that he is a Boston business man, who masked under a false name on the registers of hotels where it was alleged he was seen by private detectives hired by Mr. Stafford. Most of the evidence presented in the case yesterday was documentary.

The divorce granted Mr. Stafford is the climax of a romantic courtship and hasty marriage. Mr. Stafford is the grandson of John D. Flint, one of the richest residents of Fall River. Early in life he fell in love with a daughter of Elizabeth Birchwood, and, although his relatives frowned upon his quest and urged upon him the social difference between the families, he wooed and won the handsome young woman and eventually succeeded in installing her in the favor of his relatives.

For a time the couple lived together happily, and the Flints received his wife on terms of equality until after the birth of the second child, when an estrangement from her family took place.

It has been recently reported that Mrs. Stafford had fallen heir to a large property in England, but her relatives disclaim all knowledge of the legacy.

NOTED BEAUTY DIVORCED

Mrs. John F. Stafford, from whom her husband, a leading Fall River clubman, was freed, after mysterious breaking up of their home, the name of a Boston business man being mentioned in secret court proceedings.

BOYS IN COURT FACE CHARGE OF FIRING HOME

IMPERILLED 50 CHILDREN

Apparently unconscious of the seriousness of the crimes with which they were charged, setting fire to the Martin Luther Orphans' Home in West Roxbury, causing its partial destruction and imperilling the lives of over 50 of the child inmates, nine-year-old Henry E. Radtke and thirteen-year-old George M. Nelson appeared in the West Roxbury court to-day.

The proceedings to-day were merely formal, the granting of a warrant charging the Radtke boy with arson and young Nelson with being an accessory.

In an amazing confession made to the superintendent of the home, the Rev. Mr. Wilhelm, the Radtke boy admits that he and Nelson piled a lot of inflammable material together and that he set fire to it.

The boys appeared in court accompanied by Superintendent Wilhelm and Police Officer William O. Dupee of station 13, and after the proceedings were over went back to the home, where they will be kept until Saturday, when they will be given a court hearing.

State Officer James J. Grady, representing the fire marshal's department, was in court and had a long talk with the accused boys.

The Boys' Confession.

"For a long time George and I wanted to run away," said young Radtke, "but we were afraid to because one time Mr. Wilhelm told us that no matter where any of us would go we would be surely brought back by the police.

"After prayers Sunday George and I met together outside on the lawn and George said that we ought to get away from the home. I wanted to run away then, but George was scared to. As we were talking I said to George, 'I'll set the place afire if you'll help me. We won't have to come back again if the building burns up.'

"George said, 'Yes, let's burn the house up now.' Well, just before supper time we sneaked out of the house and looked about for paper and wood to start the fire. We soon got a number of box and boards together, and seeing the bulkhead of the cellar open decided we would build the blaze in there.

"Saw Fire Engines Come."

"Both of us carried the wood into the cellar, piled it up against the corner underneath the dining room. Then I set a match to it and we ran out of the building the schoolroom. Pretty soon we saw the other boys running out, frightened.

"Then we saw the fire engines began to arrive and—then—well, we watched the fire engines work until the fire was out.

This was the same confession said to have been made by young Nelson later. He said that he helped Henry kindle the fire, but he thought that in the destruction of the building he would not have to go to school again.

Young Nelson is an orphan. He has been an inmate of the institution for the past five years. Radtke hails from Providence, where he has a father. Radtke has been an inmate of the home for the past eight months.

JIG BENEFIT FOR TEAMSTERS AT COLUMBIA

Many of the most prominent men in business and political life of Greater Boston were among the audience which crowded the Columbia theatre last night at the concert given by the Boston Central Labor Union in aid of the striking teamsters. Several hundred dollars was raised. The concert was a success in every way.

Among those who attended were Mayor Fitzgerald and most of a majority of the Board of Aldermen, who were especially interested in the performance of "Pretty Little Kriss," a son of ex-Alderman Fred J. Kneeland. Young Kneeland is one of the best jugglers on the stage.

The performers, all of whom were supplied by local theatre managers, included Miss Alice Brodrick, Master George Whittaker, the Two Kiplings, Elsie Russell, Sandow and Lambert, Butler and Le Mar, Miss Hattie Mills, Joe Ellis, Joe Regan, Foley brothers and Joseph Boyle. The moving pictures of the Hub Theatre were also shown. Frederick Murray, vice-president of the C. L. U., and agent of the Theatrical Stage Employes' Union, directed the performance, with members of that union and also of the Musicians' Union in charge. ants, walle Treasurer Philip H. Sweet of the C. L. U. directed the box office end.

MISS FARRAR IS HONORED IN PRINCE'S BOX

BERLIN, June 4.—Miss Geraldine Farrar, the American prima donna who sang with the Metropolitan Opera Company in New York last season, made her reappearance in the Royal Opera House in Berlin last evening. Her welcome on her return was as remarkable as the farewell that was given to her last year before she left for America, when a great audience recalled her many times and cheered her as she went away.

Miss Farrar made her reappearance in "La Traviata." It was the verdict of the audience and the critics that her voice showed marked development and improvement. She was enthusiastically applauded on her first appearance and at every opportunity thereafter. Finally, after ten curtain calls, she was summoned to the royal box by the Crown Prince and Princess. They conversed with her for ten minutes, an unusual honor, and were particularly interested in her experiences in America. Miss Farrar had some amusing experiences to tell about herself and some others which showed her loyalty to her country.

FEAR VIOLENCE IN TUBE ROW

President W. E. L. Dillaway of the American Pneumatic Service Company makes the charge that the opposition was ready to do him personal violence, if necessary, to attain their ends in the contest for control of the corporation at the annual meeting in Wilmington, Del., which was adjourned to June 11.

The ticket to be submitted by the opposition to the shareholders June 11 will bear these names: William H. Ames, Oliver W. Mink, trustee of the Ames estate; Eugene N. Foss, who declined to serve on the administration ticket; Charles F. Ayer, Oakes Ames, Howard Gould of New York, J. J. Kennedy, Mr. Gould's representative; William B. Joyce of the National Surety Company of New York, Attorney Loring, George Chandler of Manchester, N. H., F. F. Rogers, Gilmer Chase, John E. Milholland, J. L. Wallcott and T. B. McCurdy.

PLANS 2-CENT FARE CONGRESS

ST. PAUL, Jun 4.—Governor Johnson and Attorney-General Young issue an invitation to-morrow to the Governors of fifteen States whose the railroads are attacking the two-cent fares ordered made by the Legislatures to join hands in a congress to maintain State control. On the result in this State all State laws controlling common carriers will have to stand or fall.

Mr. Young's idea is that other States may consider the issue serious enough to make it worth while to give Minnesota some help.

"In the suits just commenced," he says, "the issue is squarely raised as to the power of the States to regulate their domestic commerce or fix railroad rates for other passengers or freight, even on business beginning and ending within the State."

CICERO HAMLIN'S SON DIES IN AUTO CRASH

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 4.—Harry Hamlin, son of the millionaire, Cicero Hamlin and one of Buffalo's best known and wildest rakehells, was killed in an automobile accident on the Williamsville road, a mile north of the city line, late yesterday.

Mr. Hamlin's automobile collided with a light wagon, driven by Jacob Schaller, a retail butcher of Buffalo. Hamlin was thrown to the roadside and instantly killed. Schaller was badly hurt but will recover.

GIRL'S PLEA CUTS SLAYER'S SENTENCE

PORTLAND, Me., June 4.—Because the sister of the man he killed pleaded for him, Isaac Rosen, charged with manslaughter, had his sentence changed from five years in state's prison to one year in the county jail by the Superior Court. Rosen, a tall, handsome young Frenchman, aged twenty-five, killed Patrick T. Griffin, a fellow workman in a local foundry, hitting him with an iron. Griffin, desiring to call Rosen's attention, and tapped him on the shoulder and happened to touch his wounded back.

Why do we urge you so strongly NOT to use very hot water with Fels-Naptha soap?

Because boiling clothes makes them tender. There is a scientific reason for it. You take advantage of this natural law every time you boil a piece of tough beef. It becomes tender because water at a high temperature weakens the fibre.

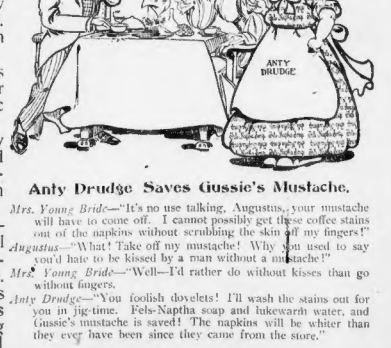
The same thing occurs with clothes when they are scalded or boiled week after week: The fibre is weakened and fabric becomes tender.

Clothes washed the Fels-Naptha way last twice as long as those that are scalded or boiled. Then there isn't much washboard rubbing—and that, too, is harder on clothes than the roughest wear.

Try Fels-Naptha soap the right way—with lukewarm or cold water—and it will do all the real hard washing for you, without harm even to the most delicate lace.

Remember, the use of Fels-Naptha is not limited to washing clothes, but is equally indispensable when housecleaning or scrubbing. With lukewarm or cold water it cleans floors and woodwork, and has no equal for washing dishes.

The wrapper is red and green. Insist on these colors.



Anty Drudge Saves Gussie's Mustache.

Mrs. Young Bride—"It's no use talking, Augustus, your mustache will have to come off. I cannot possibly get these coffee stains out of the napkins without scrubbing the skin off my fingers!"

Augustus—"What! Take off my mustache! Why you used to say you'd hate to be kissed by a man without a mustache!"

Mrs. Young Bride—"Well—I'd rather do without kisses than go without fingers.

Anty Drudge—"You foolish dovelets! I'll wash the stains out for you in jig-time. Fels-Naptha soap and lukewarm water, and Gussie's mustache is saved! The napkins will be whiter than they ever have been since they came from the store."

Umpires—Evans and Stafford.

These lusky Tigers from Detroit are here to-day ready to enter the arena at the Back Bay and claw the waiting Pilgrims in a diamond melee.

Led on by Hugh Jennings, one of the greatest baseball generals, raised from the same school as Muggsy McGraw and other famous leaders, the Detroit team this year is one of the most formidable along the circuit, and the four games they play here will be the hardest kind of contests to win.

Holding a comfortable berth in the first division, the Westerners feel that they are the real contenders in the pennant race and their work lately certainly gives them credit as being a tiptop aggregation. After breaking even with the Naps and giving the Chicago White Sox stage fright, they have traveled the Hub with trouble telegling all over their features, and it's tough sledding for Bob Unglaub's men if they don't rout the bungle beast at the outset.

The Detroit team is the first of the Western teams to put in an appearance this season and the fans are hungry for diamond sport after being starved for two whole days. It is also ladies' day at the park, and the numbers in the fair division will be visibly increased.

There is not much change in the visitors' lineup from last season, but they are certainly hustling more under Jennings's management.

Lately the team has had some setbacks from Hughes, which apparently hasn't hurt their playing any.

Matty McIntyre has been out of the game for several months with a broken ankle. Davy Jones is out with a a split hand. Charley Schmidt, the crack catcher, is sick, and Freddie Payne, taking McIntyre's place, is batting some fierce.

Any of these troubles doesn't have any effect on Bill Coughlin the unlucksome captain of the Tiger band, who has the reputation of being the hardest batter in the business and unsurpassed as a pinch hitter.

Then there is Tyrus Cobb, the fighting ball player, who has had many scraps and frequently any aspersion on his style of game. His great catch in centre field here last year is still freshly remembered as being the greatest of the circus variety. Germany Schaefer at second and Ed Rossman, the lively coacher are old favorities.

Unglaub may send Ralph Glaze to the front to stop the Tigers or rely on his veterans Tannehill or Dineen, while Killian will handle the job for the Tigers.

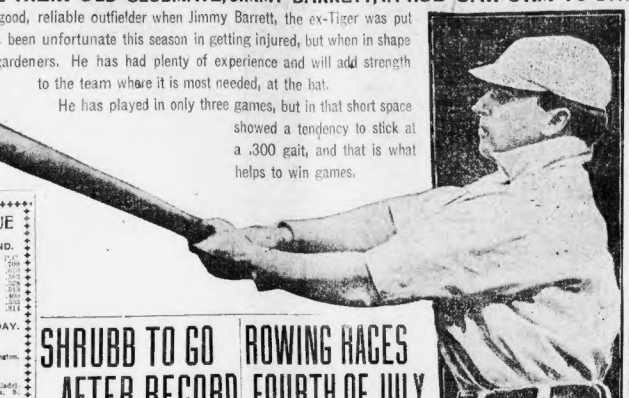
TIGERS WILL SEE THEIR OLD CLUBMATE, JIMMY BARRETT, IN HUB UNIFORM TO-DAY

Boston secured a good, reliable outfielder when Jimmy Barrett, the ex-Tiger was put on the pay roll. He has been unfortunate this season in getting injured, but when in shape is rated among the best gardeners. He has had plenty of experience and will add strength to the team where it is most needed, at the bat.

He has played in only three games, but in that short space showed a tendency to stick at a .300 gait, and that is what helps to win games.



SHRUBB TO GO AFTER RECORD

NEW YORK, June 4.—Alfred Shrubb, the famous English runner, will compete in a five-mile handicap at Celtic Park on June 29. He will attempt to smash Eddie Carter's decade record in the race and will be taken along by the best men in the country. Sherring of Canada has been invited from Cambridge, Mass., and Kanaka of Cambridgeport and Bob Hallen of this city have already entered.

Shrubb is now in New York. His running style is graceful and easy. His body from his waist on suffers from no labored movement. He differs from many runners in this respect, as he runs altogether with his legs.

To prevent a possibility of crowding in the coming race the entries will be limited to ten. The handicaps will be arranged so that Shrubb will have to extend himself to win.

ROWING RACES FOURTH OF JULY

There will be a rowing regatta on the Charles July 4 if plans of the N. E. A. R. A. do not miscarry. Springfield wanted the date, but Hub rowing men won out.

It is likely that Providence will hold a regatta during Old Home Week there, which will interest local oarsmen, as the $1,000 for prizes looks attractive.

BIG BIKE CARD FOR HOLIDAY

There will be a big card of bike racing at the Revere track on Bunker Hill Day. A special ten-mile motor-paced race between Dennis Connolly of Everett and Patsy Logan of South Boston will draw the followers from the two sections the riders come from.

An intercity team race between Chelsea and Lynn, and three events for the sprinters, consisting of a five-mile open, half-mile handicap and half-mile novice, will make lots of sport. A five-mile motor race is an additional event.

WANTS GRIMSHAW.

Milwaukee is after Grimshaw of the Boston Americans, but the deal is blocked by Cantillon of the Washingtons, who refuses to waive claim on the first baseman. It is understood that all the other league managers have agreed to do so.

KNOX, ANDOVER CAPTAIN.

The Phillips Andover Academy track team has elected D. W. Knox '08 of Salt Lake captain of the team for next season. The choice is a most popular one among the students.

Doves Enroute for Smoketown Today

To-day the Hub National outfit is en route for Pittsburg, where the Smoky City is awaiting to welcome them as favorite sons.

Special feautres will probably be added to the day's entertainment, as Barney Dreyfuss wants to show President Dovey that there is no hard feeling for his being responsible for getting Dovey into major league baseball.

It will be an intersting reception tendered to Claude Hitchey and Beaumont, who have hosts of friends among the Fans in Pittsburg. Their faithful service under the Dreyfuss flag has not been forgotten. Then there are Howard, Brain, Flaherty, other ex-Pirates, who will come in for recognition, as well as Sam Brown and Johnny Bates, who live down that way.

Flaherty arrived in Pittsburg ahead of his team mates, going to his home in Carnegie to recover from the spliking he received in the holiday game in the Hub. He beat the Pirates in the only game won when they stopped in Boston, and he is feared more than any other twirler.

As the Pirates got a couple of hard knocks from the Cubs and the Dovers received the same treatment from the Quakers, both teams will be looking for each other's scalp when they get moving tomorrow.

The Doves ran into a snag in the double header in Philadelphia yesterday, losing both contests, the first by a score of 4 to 3 in twelve innings and the other 2 to 0. Pfeffer and Young were the twirlers.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

It took Phillies twelve innings to down Boston in the first game.

Owner Dreyfuss says he will be glad to go West or any old place where they have warm weather.

Howard was hit hard by a pitched ball in the second inning of the first game and had to retire in favor of Burke.

Eight hits apiece in the first game.

Pfeffer weakened in the twelfth.

Pfeffer's bases on balls figured strongly in the Phillies' first game victory.

Yesterday's victory was Moran's fourth straight this season.

Brown had twelve chances without an error in the first game. Only six hits off Pfeffer up to the twelfth.

Thomas retired Tenney's men on flies in the seventh inning of the second game.

The fielding of Doolin and Knabe in the second game was enough to send any team off its feet.

The second half of the second game was played in the rain.

Brain was robbed of a sure thing hit by Doolin in the fourth inning of second game.

Boston went out in one, two, three order in first six innings of second game. A base on balls to Bridwell in seventh relieved the monotony.

Hard Work Planned by Squires's Opponent

BURNS IN JEFF'S CAMP

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—Tommy Burns has gone to Harbin Springs, Lake County, to train for his fight with Bill Squires, and will have the use of the gymnasium erected for Jim Jeffries when the "big fellow" first went to the mountains to prepare himself for his contest with Gus Ruhlin. Most of the equipment put in place for Jeffries will be available for Burns, but Tommy says he will dispense with the 500-pound sandbag with which Jeffries used to toy when he needed a full for his immense strength and superabundant friskiness.

"Nothing out of the way for me," said Burns. "Straight road work and plenty of long punching and sparring, with perhaps on occasional hunting trip for diversion, will about fill the bill."

As for sparring partners, Tommy will have enough of them to form a drill corps. He has arranged for the services of Billy Wood, George Brown, of Oakland, and Jimmy Burns, otherwise George Memsic. He is in hopes of securing Bob Ward, who used to assist Jack O'Brien at Los Angeles.

Will Finish at Oakland.

Burns will break camp at Harbin ten days before the date of the fight with Squires, and will put the finishing touches to his training at the Reliance Club, Oakland.

Jeffries has always claimed that he felt more in his element "among the clover and the bees" than in the prize ring, and some moving pictures of Farmer Jeffries at work, taken recently, gives credence to Jeffries's claim that he prefers the simple life to the turmoil and glamour of a sporting career.

The camera depicts Jeffries in various phases of the duties of a rancher, and he looks more natural than he ever did when trying to corner an opponent and administer a rib-busting punch. In feeding the chickens he sprinkles the grain with the grace of a female big dancer distributing the contents of a cornucopia of sand. In driving the machine that mows down the alfalfa he handles the lines with the cuts an even swath, while in tossing the stuff to the top of the wagon he pitches a bundle of fodder as big as a Saratoga trunk and leaves the ground as clean as though swept with a whisperoom. An interesting part of the display is the spectacle of big Jeffries milking a cow, which, though of the regulation size, should take dwindles to the dimensions of a pet goat, alongside of the lively ex-champion. And all through the piece Jeffries never once looked toward the camera, a sure sign that his heart is in his work.

Squires Prospecting.

Once a miner, always a miner. A story comes from San Rafael that Bill Squires, who used to work in the bowels of the earth at times in Australia, has prospected a hill in Marin County around his training quarters for nuts and has discovered some "likely looking stone." According to Barney Reynolds, Squires was driven one day to some blue metal with which a gang of street repairers were fixing up a water channel, and he inquired of the man where the stuff came from. He was informed with a very comprehensive wave of the foreman's hand that it "come from up there somewhere." Squires didn't rest until he located the reef or quarry from which the road menders took their material.

Says Reynolds: "I know that Bill has one piece of rock which he says looks like West Australian gold, and I think another which he swears contains silver, but whether they come from the new hole he has discovered or not I can't say. He is just a bit mysterious about the matter, but you can take it from me that if there is gold in the hills around here Squires will locate it."

JOE THOMAS BOXES WITH SQUIRES THREE ROUNDS

BY W. W. NAUGHTON.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—Joe Thomas, San Francisco's foremost welterweight, went to Bill Squire's place at San Rafael on a visit and was pressed into service as a sparring partner. The three-round bout proved to be about the best workout that Squires has been subjected to up to the present.

"Squires is a great fighter," said Joe. "I read a deal about him and expected to find him a rought slugger with no particular style. No such thing. He is, I think, I consider him clever. He is a remarkably strong fellow, and hard to hurt when I stood before a boxer who is quicker on his feet. He knows how to protect himself and he sends in lifting punches and short range hooks and jolts that are the hardest things in the world to block. He caught me with punches which seemed to travel barely four or five inches, but they seemed to hurt me more than some of the long range blows that I have taken in my fights. One thing I noticed is that Squires is always well balanced, no matter how he changes his position. He is a dangerous man for any of the present day lightweights unless I am greatly mistaken."

Bill Nolan and Jimmy Britt had a conference last night and went so far as they could in the matter of arranging the proposed Battling Nelson-Jimmy Britt match. It was agreed that the contests should take place and that the weight conditions and the division of the purse should be similar to those governing the fight two years ago at Colma. In other words, each man will weigh 18 pounds three hours before entering the ring and the winner shall receive 60 per cent of the purse, 40 per cent of gate receipts set aside for the pugilists. Whether the men will fight for a side bet or per cent. is unknown to themselves as yet.

Abe Attell and Jim Neil, father of Frankie Neil, met and talked fight last night. It was thought that a go between Frankie and Abe Attell would result, but at least one more gaitfest will be required before details are completed. Before proceeding further the parties want to ascertain if an offer of purse made in the name of The Richard of Goldfield is genuine.

TRAINERS BUSY THIS YEAR AT COMBINATION

A more contented lot it would be hard to find than the trainers at Combination Park. Even Frank Fox has forgotten to relate the mean tricks that Judges have played on him in the past when he was trying his hard best to win a race, but declares everybody is his friend and always has been.

Of course the cause of this may be the nice way his favorite and old reliable pacing mare, Gloria, 2:10¼, is behaving toward spring in her early work. Usually she has been hard to drive a mile slower than 2:30, but Fox has been repeatedly miles around 2:45 with her in the past three weeks. When the time comes Fox has a half-mile track circuit of his own all picked out to get the money in, and seems sure Willie Durnan couldn't get him to let loose where it is.

"Whitey" Crowley is attending to a dozen, quite a few of the number being matinee horses that will start in the inferior meeting between Dorchester and Lynn on June 17. Checkers he is preparing for the much talked-about match race against Weshman that is due by the middle of the month. Only Walton and Mr. Bellew are already shaking hands over the result.

TOMMY MURPHY FOULED HARRIS

NEW YORK, June 4.—Tommy Murphy of Harlem was disqualified for fouling Harry Harris last night in the eighth round of their bout at the Knickerbocker Athletic Club of America. The Harlem boy, apparently deliberately shot his shoulder against Harris's chin with great force, and Referee Johnny White sent Murphy to his corner, beaten. The bout was limited to ten rounds.

40.00 Tailor Bankrupt

SIX months ago Nathan Lotto & Co. opened their swell tailoring apartments at 470 Tremont Street with the usual fond hopes and aspirations of $40 and $50 tailors. Catering for high price trade, they loaded the store with fancy woolens—all brand new, 1907 goods, in all the latest novelties and dainty designs.

Unable to stand the strain of an off season they assigned, and by a spot cash purchase from the assignee I today offer this magnificent stock at quick-selling prices.

The goods are so far superior to anything ever carried by popular price tailors that I advise all my regular customers to make immediate selections and avail themselves of a rare opportunity.

AUTO DEALERS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

Report that Business is Booming in the Hub This Season.

BY J. C. KERRISON.

The annual meeting of the Boston Automobile Dealers' Association held yesterday showed the organization to be in a decidedly healthy condition, future prospects keen and bright, with a handsome balance of the right side of the ledger. Many matters pertaining to the welfare of the organization were thoroughly discussed and satisfactorily arranged. The election resulted in the re-election to office of practically the entire old board, these officers being selected: President, J. H. MacAlman; vice-president, Sewall Cook Lowe; treasurer, Harry Fosdick; secretary, Chester I. Campbell; directors, J. S. Hathaway, A. F. Hinchfle, A. P. Underhill, S. K. Hingle, J. W. Maguire and Charles E. Ray.

The condition governing the entry for the Glidden tour seem to be having rather a detrimental effect upon the individual entry. Here in Boston the local clubs have shown no great enthusiasm over the setting this year, and the individual member seems not to be particularly interested, owing to the fact that unless the club he represents sends a team to New York Wing is rather anxious to make an entry, and if he can find two other members of the local club who will join the hawkeye he will immediately send his entry for the tour. Otherwise he will not compete for the trophy. So far as can be seen at this distance it looks as though the entry for the Hower trophy will be greater in number than for the Glidden. The number of club teams for the Glidden seems to have exercised against the success of the competition for the trophy, while the Hower trophy is opened to individual runabouts and will produce many additional entries. There will unquestionably be at least three runabout entries from this city, and the way things now look there will not be a single entry of a touring car.

A new comer in the runabout line that is a swift beauty is the production of the American Locomotive Automobile Company, a 40-horsepower Bertlet, finished in cream color with green trimmings. It has a double seat in front with a rumble behind, and is said to do sixty-six miles an hour without straining.

Automobilists interested in the various phases of the good roads movement for the least important of which is the dust nuisance, have experienced the hardest methods for doing away with dust will be among the subscribers to the fund for the seeing of good roads soon in this city on Wednesday. It has been the subject of discussion regarding remedies for this evil in the United States for many years, while Germany and France, so far as systematic expensive steps have been taken, are ahead. Some work has been done by men attached to the office of public roads at Washington, but work of the kind only officials of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Massachusetts and California, where the most extensive tests have been organized on the elaborate scale that the authorities of several provinces of France have been using for months.

Some of the foreign methods used for abating the annoying nuisance are reported to be commended, as they render the road surface practically dustless, and that if there is a refreshing absence of mud when rain has fallen it is also true that the fine dust that formerly bothered highway users during dry spells is also absent. It has been so much interest taken in the question that a corps of survey men has been formed for the purpose of devising means of preventing dust, and the suggestion has been made that a similar body be organized in this country by the good roads men of the American Automobile Association, as the improved highway advocates that are to meet here this week.

SLAYER STARVES SELF.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., June 4.—Charles H. Rogers, the confessed triple murderer now in Goshen jail awaiting trial, intends to starve himself to death if possible, and it may be necessary to force nourishment into his system in order to prevent this. With the exception of milk, Rogers has taken no food or nourishment for a week.

DEATH NOTICES.

ALIKER—In this city, June 3, Thomas Henry, beloved husband of Theresa A. Aliker, aged 58 yrs. 10 mos.
Funeral from parents' residence, 678 Shawmut ave., Tuesday, June 4, at 8 o'clock. Relatives and friends respectfully invited to attend.

PIANOS AND ORGANS.

Roxbury Storage Salesrooms

WHERE BRAINY ECONOMICAL PEOPLE BUY ANY MAKE PIANO—RIGHT

A great many people are ignorant of the fact that the best possible opportunity to buy a piano at the lowest possible price is to get one at the storage warehouses. Remember the finest pianos that are made go almost for a song, some claim of the best makes that have been used long quite a number of years. Pianos are sold at auction by the hundreds, and the most ingenious plans are sold regularly at large prices, but for prices much lower than an auction would bring. There is no one to tell at a piano storage salesroom the price is simply put down, first served, and the careful, economical man or woman who wants to buy a piano economically, in fact the storage sales carefully.

We have a large store with their costly superintendent, high salaried sales agents, their sellers' commissions, etc., as no place for the economical piano buyer to go. Take the trouble to look around a little, go to where the rents are not so high and buy your piano right.

Bargains Beginning Monday, May 27

We would advise you to make up your mind to buy your Piano this coming week as soon as circumstances will allow you. There were not enough Pianos in the city last month (Saturday, May 25, and we do not believe there are enough of them now). Monday's offerings are certainly of the best. Days, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays are tremendous bargain days. Every Piano is tuned by our expert and is at concert pitch before coming into our salesroom. We let no Piano go out before being assured of its excellent condition.

Good Ex-Judge Wallace, You Are Mistaken

Not to YOU or to Any Other Judge Will the People Abandon THEIR RIGHT TO GOVERN

William J. Wallace has resigned from the New York federal court bench, and our timid prophecy is that he will soon be found living prosperously in the ranks of loyal, hard-working, well-paid trust lawyers.

Mr. Wallace has kindly addressed and rebuked the people, at a public dinner. The dinner was made up of lawyers and was presided over by Judge Parker—once a comical candidate, and since broken to eat out of any hand that wears a diamond ring.

Judge Wallace is another of the geese that help Mr. Roosevelt in attacking him.

First Mr. Wallace attacks the President, and then HE proceeds to make it clear that whatever MR. WALLACE thinks is probably incorrect and opposed to public opinion.

For instance, Judge Wallace says of the proposal to prevent judges sitting for life by limiting their terms of office, say, to seven years:

"No blow more fatal than this could be aimed at all that is valuable in the existing system."

Really, Mr. Wallace, is that how you feel? Do you really think the people and "the system" would sink into chaos if laws should be arranged so that people could take a man like you off the bench in case they should tire of your wisdom? Are you REALLY convinced that there is stored away under your hair some wisdom, some divine quality that is superior to the expressed will of the people? Being on the bench must have hurt your sense of humor—you take yourself too seriously.

And ex-Judge Wallace says—full of dinner and ex-judicial importance:

"The times are near when the courts of this country are to be more than ever before the sanctuary of that justice which consists in administering the law of the land according to the ordained principles of our present form of government. The will of the majority is not law when it transcends the constitutional limitations upon its exertion of power."

Good, non-humorous ex-judge, the courts are and always WILL be THE PEOPLE'S SERVANTS. You on the bench were the people's salaried employe, paid to take their orders and to adapt yourself to such changes in the laws and the constitution as THEY might see fit to make.

The "will of the majority," of which you speak contemptuously, is and ALWAYS WILL BE the law in everything. The will of the people can change the constitution. It can change every law, remove every judge. There is NO power outside of the will of the people. The laws and the constitution express that will, and the idea of any judge that there resides in HIM or in all judges put together a power above the people's will is idiotic and fit for Turkey or Russia, but not for America.

The people have real respect for judges and, fortunately, a great majority of judges call forth respect and gratitude.

But judges are MEN, and the people do not forget that.

They have seen a Supreme Court justice turn a moral somersault, reverse his own opinion to call an income tax UNCONSTITUTIONAL, and they know that they—THE PEOPLE—must have the power to stop such somersaulting if it gets too frequent.

The people feel that Thomas Jefferson ranks higher as an authority than even ex-Judge Wallace, and they remember Jefferson's declaration that TOO MUCH POWER FOR JUDGES MIGHT PROVE THE RUIN OF THIS COUNTRY.

Mr. Wallace, the power is not in YOU. It is not in any judge or any hundred judges or in any judge-making corporation.

The power is in eighty millions of people, AND IT WILL STAY THERE. The people will put you on the bench or OFF the bench as THEY see fit. They will sustain your decisions or reverse them AS THEY SEE FIT.

More foolish than a child building a sand fort on the seashore is an ex-judge telling what the people MAY and may NOT do.

Our readers, of course, must not take too seriously what ex-Judge Wallace, of the federal court, had to say. He was talking to a choice collection of trust jackals, otherwise "distinguished American corporation lawyers." The men around him at the banquet, with a few honorable exceptions, were men who make their living by telling trusts how to cheat the people.

Ex-Judge Wallace himself, having retired from the bench where the people paid him a salary for many years, announces that he is to be the head of a big and very well-known corporation law firm in Wall street.

The head of a big corporation law firm MUST DRUM UP BUSINESS. And the first way for a corporation LAWYER to get business is to be a good corporation TOADY.

There is every reason to think that Mr. Wallace will have plenty of business in his new law firm. There is no question that he is an able lawyer, and there is no question that he knows by heart the Latin saying, "Asinus asinum gratiat."

Mr. Wallace is the gentleman who, when he was a small judge at $7,000 a year, appointed the distinguished Tom Platt receiver of a great railroad, the New York & New England. Very shortly thereafter the same Tom Platt nominated the same Judge Wallace for the Court of Appeals of New York State—a job that pays $17,500 a year.

Wallace was not elected, but that was not Platt's fault. It was the people's act.

The people did not gain very much, as it happened, for when they defeated WALLACE they elected PARKER, which was very much like getting a mangy fox instead of a willing jackal.

Time straightens all things out, however. Parker and Wlalace are both off the bench, and they will hereafter eat out of the same trough in Wall street, where judges, who on the bench think the people have too much power, are fattened up later on.

Little Editorials from the People

A CHANCE FOR BUSIER, BETTER BOSTON REFORMERS.

Editor BOSTON AMERICAN:

I wish to call your attention to the unmerited treatment which I, along with others, received at the hands of the officials of the White Star Line in Boston on Monday last. We applied for and received a permit from the agents of the above line at Lawrence to pass into the Custom House to meet a brother who came on the S. S. Cymric.

When we arrived at the docks about 3 o'clock we found that we could not get admittance to the Custom House. After waiting in the crowd until 11.30 we managed to get through the side gates, where we found our further progress arrested by another closed door. After a further half hour of impatient waiting we managed to get up into the Custom House, only to find more than 300 people crowded in a space designed to hold only 30 in comfort.

The arrangements for inquiries of expected relatives and friends were simply crushed to a crowd for six hours, when if proper arrangements were made the questions asked could be answered in less than six minutes, besides giving people an opportunity of getting their friends or relatives away sooner in the event of bonds or securities being required.

Mine is not the only case which occurred on Monday last, and if through this letter to the public better arrangements are made in future, I shall feel that this effort has not been fruitless.

WHY EXEMPT HOSPITAL NURSES FROM BENEFIT OF 8-HOUR LAW?

Editor BOSTON AMERICAN:

The attendants of the Taunton Insane Hospital and also the other insane hospitals of the state would be very grateful to you if through your columns you would kindly tell them why the eight-hour law for state employes does not include the attendants and nurses if it includes domestic help, laborers and farmers.

Why are the attendants and nurses excluded every time this bill is presented, when it is made for their benefit and not the outside help of these institutions? It certainly is a shame to ask the female nurses to work such long hours as they have to—twelve hours short day, fifteen hours long day—while the male attendants' working hours are only a trifle less. These long hours of confinement at indoor labor must in time become a menace to the health, and the wages are not sufficient compensation. AN ATTENDANT.

THE LADIES INVITED THEM TO CALL—THEY CALLED

June

By James J. Montague

HOW the gale goes gayly roaring up and down Masuma street!
Hear the tinkle of the snowflakes and the slapping of the sleet!
See the mercury descending unto seventeen degrees!
See the icicles hang, gleaming, on the swinging, swaying trees!
Hark! The storm above the housetops wails a weird, fantastic tune.
It is Junetime, little sister; it is gentle, joyous June.

OH, the songs of mellow Summer! Where—alas!—oh, where are they?
Where the perfume of the roses? Where the breath of new-mown hay?
Where the softly falling petals? Where the booming of the bees?
Where the merry call of maidens through the shadowy orchard trees?
Let us walk abroad and seek them while we hear the blizzard croon,
For it's Junetime, little sister; it most certainly is June.

LET us wander down to Crescent, where the ruffian ocean laves
All the long, snow-pelted beaches with its rolling, ice-cold waves;
Though the chutes are deep 'neath snowdrifts, and the barkers' luring notes
Freeze before they're fairly uttered in their fur-enveloped throats,
Let us sit upon some iceberg and of Summer days commune,
For it's Junetime, little sister; it officially is June.

IS there coal to be discovered in a single Back Bay flat?
Can you find a single damsel who has not a Summer hat?
Can you take a trolley journey through the city, near and far,
Save upon a lung destroyer that is called an open car?
All these things with gladsome Summer their sweet harmonies attune,
Though it surely seems December, it is, notwithstanding, June.

The Sense of Humor

Cultivate it.
And understand it.
It's a genial condition.
It has nothing to do with noise.
A man may "keep a room roaring," yet have no humor.
The twinkle in an eye at one or another point of view may be alive with humor.

Independent Voting the People's One Hope

(FROM THE NEW YORK AMERICAN)

THE rapid growth of the Independence League is one of the most striking developments of recent political history. Less than two years old, the organization has already polled a vote of practically two hundred thousand in the chief State of the Union and has shown a strong following in other leading States. Recent elections have revealed that its strength is still increasing.

Disquieted by this sudden growth of the new movement, the older parties have taken up the League principles, or have pretended to do so, presumably to stop the exodus of voters from their own ranks.

If that is the purpose the expedient will prove futile. It is because the bosses have promised so much and performed so little that the people have revolted. New promises from those that have broken the old will not now serve.

The League has grown because its foundation principle is independence in politics. The old idea of voting by herds is passing out. The American people are making up their minds to vote for themselves. They have learned that self-government does not mean boss-government. Knowing that independence has saved popular institutions in the past, they believe it will save them now.

If it served the fathers, it will serve the present. If it was the cornerstone of the old Americanism, it will be that of the new.

The existing parties have betrayed the people so often that they have forfeited the right to respect or confidence. Whatever may be their pretensions, their acts show them unable or unwilling to deal with present problems.

Dependent for campaign contributions on the trusts, they legislate for the trusts. Making an outcry for reform measures, the resultant laws are found to be worthless. They distract the public with a great noise of rate bills, pure food bills and other fair-seeming acts that sound well in congressional speeches, but when these are placed on the statute books they do absolutely nothing against the evils they were supposed to correct.

This game has been played so long that it has ceased to fool the people. The day has passed for subterfuges, legislative jokers and sham reforms. The voters demand plain dealing and political honesty.

It is this conviction in the minds of from parties whose chief reliance has been to delude their followers, whose bosses are corporation agents and whose funds are contributed by corrupt special interests.

It is this conviction in th minds of the masses that has builded and will build the Independence League.

I owe much, I have nothing; I bequeath the rest to the poor.
—RABELAIS.

Love That Is True Can't Make Us Steal

By Rev. Albert E. George

A YOUNG man of this State recently stole one hundred dollars in order to get married. He states he was driven to this unseemly act through love. He really loved the woman of his choice and in order to show her the depth of his devotion he committed the theft.

Does love lead anyone to this unfortunate state? This indescribable emotion passing through us and overpowering us to choose a partner in life—does this lead us astray to do acts which in our reasonable moments we would disdain?

Love may blind us to many faults, but it never tampers with our honesty. Take this as a fact and dwell upon it.

The trouble is that many young people get out of love what they have simply read into it. Instead of being led by love, they have taken it and made it answerable for their faults. To use it as a mere tool is to pervert it.

Love calls forth many sacrifices, and a man in his calmer moments may realize he has more to endure than he at first bargained for, but it never puts him where he has got to be dishonest in order to prove his love is true.

Don't throw the control of a personal weakness upon love.

Love is no unerring guide. Pure true love is always to be admired and leaves no shame behind it. It lays no unnecessary burdens upon anyone, though its course is seldom smooth.

"It is better to have loved and lost Than never to have loved at all."

We are the wiser for experience, its thrills. But avoid the thrills that by and by will make happiness mud, and, slowly widening, endanger every detail of courtship and every marriage consequent upon it.
